THE FIRST STEP in the experiment is to fulfill the conditions of loving God. Complete surrender must be followed by holy obedience. Rigid adherence to the laws of experimentation requires faithful and persistent objectivity, thoroughness. As Light comes, it must be followed. As Love is revealed, it must be reappropriated. As Faith is born, it must be nurtured. As trouble comes, it must be immersed in this Love that is revealed, and the Love that is felt.

Religious truth certainly is not possible in the sense that we can be positive of the truth of a scientific formula. Some religious truth is demonstrable, some not. Fortunately, here it is possible for us to put these words of the text to a test. This truth can be taken into the laboratory of life and demonstrated.

As the "experience"--whether sorrow, or pain, or death, or failure--emerges in the light of God's love for us and our love for him, it begins to take on a hue which gives it a different color. This changing of color, this viewing from a different angle, this creation of a new psychology which brings an entirely different perspective--all this helps us "know" that all things work together for good to them that love God. Some knowledge of spiritual truth comes only by God's Spirit witnessing to our hearts. Here, however, we can experiment and demonstrate and prove. The glorious answer is there for all who seek in God's love.
