

WHO'S WHO and doing what

By EDDYE K. KIM

UP and DOWN, 'ROUND the TOWN . . .

Congratulations to Gwen Weekes, ever-busy president of the Las Vegas Women's Democratic Club, West, and popular Las Vegas High pedagogue William Wynn on their election as delegates to the national Young Democrats convention in New York next October. They were selected for the trip at the state convention of the Young Demos here last weekend, which saw pretty Virginia Catt, who looked so smart in white sequin top and black skirt, renamed state president of the organization. . . LA's Just-for-Fun Club made a most attractive group at the Stardust Hotel last weekend as they took in the Lido de Paris dinner show. (See photo this page.) Mrs. Charles I. West, whose folks, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Seamon, are members of the club, also entertained the Just-for-Funners at a swimming party at the West abode in Bonanza Village. Everyone had a ball, which is exactly why the club was formed. . . Cute Johnny Bailey took over daddy Bob's TV show on Father's Day and received raves from the King of Klowns, Red Skelton, who invited Johnny and his family to be his guests at the "Red Sails in the Copa Room" show at the Sands Hotel. . . A call from schoolmaster Isaac White, inviting us to attend the Alpha Phi Alpha convention at Monterey, Calif. . . "I'm coming up to see you folks--just for auld lang syne," is what popular (and wealthy) mortician James Tate told Till Toms when he called from San Diego--and up he came to spend a week with his old buddy. Till's "better-half," Thelma, basilius of Gamma Phi Delta's local chapter, has started the ball rolling in preparation for the sorority's Ebony Fashion Fair in December (more on this later). . . "An enjoyable time with a child in mind" is the best way to describe the Benefit Tea held last Sunday for the Operation Independence Child Care Center at the project's Job Center on West Owens. First prize for the best decorated table went to Mrs. Ike (Gloria) Rome's newly-organized Pathfinders Club, with the Gamma Phi Delta entry headed by Mrs. Earle (Lorraine) White a close runnerup. Other attractive tables were sponsored by the local branch of the American Association of University Women (Mrs. Robert Seaton, president), Alpha Temple of the Elks (Mrs. Minnie Wilkins, chairman), and the Las Vegas Women's Democratic Club, West, (Gwen Weekes, president). The occasion was ably supervised by Mrs. Onward (Edythe) Abington, chairman of the OI Community Arts Committee, and project director Mrs. Lubertha Johnson. VISTA worker William Long served as master of ceremonies. (We have some nice photos of this affair. Watch for them in next week's VOICE.)

"SO YOU TAKE the HIGH ROAD . . ."

That's what Mrs. Robert (Sondra) Reid tells us she will be doing shortly when she heads for her old, home town of Atlanta, Ga., with the kids while papa is firing legal bullets at the Nevada Tax Commission in behalf of a group of clients who operate retail liquor establishments here. . . Also visiting Georgia are Mrs. Marion (Gwen) Bennett and daughter Kayen. . . Las Vegas teacher Floyd Plymouth pens from the University of South Carolina that all is well with him as he works toward his master's degree this summer. . . Also away to school is Mrs. James (Helen) Anderson, with Jim looking lost when we came across him the other day. . . Mrs. Jack (Ruth) Thomas motored up to Oakland while her spouse was bound for Alaska. . . In town from LA, Mrs. Al (Theresa) Brandon, resting and sunning as a house guest of Miss Gwen Weekes following a recent operation.
