

We've Been WONDERING

WHY that rookie hotelman, who apparently needs to read Hilton's "Be My Guest", has "eye" trouble so badly he can't even see the light.
? ? ? ? ?

WHY the Yuletide spirit that man has for his fellow man can't last throughout the whole year, and year after year? What a better place the world would be!
? ? ? ? ?

WHY that businessman "garbage collector" can't see the beauty in what he has at hand? All the other cats can see it, just as plain—even half-blind 'P', for poor, can see what a tasty parfait that lane is overlooking for any kind of tripe that comes along. (The bossman of Playboy mag at least wines and dines his assortment of dolls.)

WHY the numbers 2-4-7-9-22-24-29-42-44-49 never fall when our boss plays them? They always fall like mad when the boss aint playing the board. (When he lays off, that's when they pay-off.)
? ? ? ? ?

WHY the corners have been so dead recently? It's time for them to get hot. (Bossman, take a tip from Poor Henry.)
? ? ? ? ?

WHY that gossip-mongering couple in one of the new tracts keeps needling their good neighbors? The good neighbors had to put up a brick wall to keep their dirty noses on their own side of the fence. (The good ones are a mixed couple, but the nosey ones are just plain mixed-up.)
? ? ? ? ?

WHY certain Westsiders take time to listen to what that Republican candidate has to say about his new-found interest in the welfare of Negroes? Evidently they didn't hear him very well not so long ago when he said that there was not any prejudice in Nevada, and he saw no need for any Civil Rights legislation. He not only supported Bilgewater, but he said he didn't need the West-side vote. He didn't even think that things in Watts were so bad. He thought the Negroes were doing OK in Watts.

WHY Al Wilburn (Sight & Sound) with access to thousands of the best sounds in the world has such a corny collection of records in his home with which he entertains his friends.
? ? ? ? ?

WHY Shirley "Stop-A-Car" Smith (who was affectionately dubbed that name after a playful encounter with a friend who had bragged that by flashing "secret" fraternal signals she could stop any car at any time causing Shirley to retort that she could always stop a car without signals) didn't realize that if she stopped long enough, the inevitable would happen--Shirley and "pleased as punch" hubby, Dock are expecting.
