

WHO'S WHO and doing what

By EDDYE K. KIM

SNOW, OCEAN, ROSES . . .

Can you imagine the excitement of the 75 bright-eyed 5th and 6th graders who, with breathless expectation, awaited the arrival of two Greyhound buses at the Kit Carson school at the unearthly hour of 2 a.m.?

The occasion was the New Year's trip to California made possible by inspired, dedicated, and tireless efforts of the Kit Carson school principal, teachers, and parents.

For some of the youngsters, it was their first time to see snow as they traveled to Pasadena, California where they were "in person" spectators at the fabulous Tournament of Roses Parade--a wondrous event for anyone at any age.

At the conclusion of the fabulous parade of the most beautiful floats made from fresh flowers ever exhibited anywhere, the happy children loaded back into the buses and headed for Santa Monica to see the turbulent "Blue Pacific"; another first for most of them. There they romped in the sand exhilarated by the salty spray from the ocean.

To Mrs. Helen Anderson, Kit Carson School Principal, and her husband, James Anderson; to the Kit Carson teachers, Mrs. Bertha Roberson, Mrs. Charlotte Cook, and Mrs. LaNeal Rayford; to the parents represented by Mrs. Hawkins; please accept the community's sincerest appreciation for making this junket possible, and may I add that you have started the New Year off with a promise to our children and a challenge to the rest of us to "come on in" and show our youngsters we mean what we've been talking about.

I should not fail to say a thank-you to those who supported the dinner held at Kit Carson School to raise funds to make the expedition possible.

DINNER AT THE COVE . . .

Employees of Child Care Center #2 of Operation Independence hosted a champagne dinner party for Mrs. Lubertha Johnson, Director, and Vista Workers of the Center. Co-hosting the affair were Mrs. Ronald (Linda) Ward, and the Center's cook, James Todd who offered the VOICE photographer, Clint Wright plenty of competition in the picture taking department.

Among the guests, we noted Mr. and Mrs. Ike Rome, Mrs. Eddie Bell, Mrs. Irene Parker, Mrs. Eleanor Walker, Mrs. James Todd, Mrs. Joseph Knight, Mrs. Doris Laroux, Mrs. James Bowie, and the Center's newly-elected Chairman of the Board, Earle White. Henry Miller, too, was there giving the Chef a hand.

Phil Waddell was much in evidence, while Hotel Manager, Leonard Mason, was busy seeing that everyone was comfortable. . . We exchanged Season's Greetings with Sight and Sound's Al Wilburn still celebrating from the party he hosted for his pretty contingent of female employees: Hannah Brown, Mgr. of Larry's Music store; Barbara McCants, Rose Wickliffe, Elizabeth Crockett, and Mrs. Bernard (Lurene) Flake who, with her husband, had entertained a host of friends at a swinging party in their North 'J' street home.

STILL MORE PARTIES . . .

VOICE Publisher, Dr. and Mrs. Charles I. West's home was alive with members of the VOICE staff and their friends for a Staff Holiday party. . . It was a similar affair at the home of the H. P. Fitzgeralds who entertained his staff of teachers from the Jo Mackey School along with a few friends. . . While out at the Till Toms T-Bar-T Ranch, egg nog was the main drink as friends dropped in. . . Toasting the New Year in with drinks from a hot wassail bowl were the Democratic Women West, their husbands, and a large group of friends as Jesse Tidwell and his group played for dancing at the Elks Lounge on Jackson street. . . Out at Nellis Air Force Base,

Champagne For Deserving Ladies

A Busman's Holiday

WOULDN'T YOU KNOW IT!--Neither a houseful of lovely ladies, a full cellar "of", nor the beat of happy dancing feet could stop two "old" newspapermen from comparing notes on the "game" --VOICE Managing Editor, John West, left--and David Reed, Editor of The Educator were caught talking shop at the VOICE staff Christmas party.

YOU BETTER CHECK!

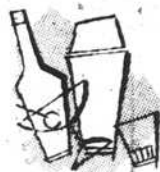

Mrs. Charles West (left) our Dottie--was the first to take advantage of the Chest X-Ray Mobile Unit this week when it was stationed at 'F' and Van Buren streets--As a physician's wife, Mrs. West knows it pays to be careful. Here she is shown going over some statistics with a TB Mobile Unit worker after having had her X-Ray.

YOU ARE ABLE TO GET a Chest X-Ray today, tomorrow, and Saturday at any of three locations on the Westside where the Mobile Unit provided by the Nevada State Division of Health, Section of Tuberculosis Control and the Nevada Tuberculosis and Health Association will be stationed.

Today, Jan. 6, the Mobile Unit will be at McDonald Court, 1717 McDonald from 12 noon until 7 p.m. Tomorrow, Jan. 7 the Unit will be at 2024 Carver St., Baldwin Heights also from 12 noon until 7 p.m. Sunday, Jan. 8 the Unit will be at Marble Manor, Washington St. during the same hours.

616 W. BONANZA

the home of Staff Sgt. and Mrs. Milton McCoy was the scene of a lively group toasting the New Year in with Champagne. . . Mrs. Anna M. Norwood (Oh so petite) invited a group in for Sunday morning Brunch and bridge--Card tables centered with fresh fruit baskets - drinks of your choice from Bloody Marys to Champagne--AND Waffles with Ham on the menu. Enjoying the scrumptious food, etc., were Kathleen Kincherlow, Mrs. Aguilla S. Guy, Mrs. Milton (Lillie) McCoy, Mrs. Henry J. Moody, Mrs. Helen Anderson, Mrs. Andrew (Ella) Blackman, Mrs. Louis (Ernestine) Jones, Mrs. Robert (Delores) Brown, SSgt. Louis Jones, Mr. Royce Kincherlow, and SSgt. Andrew Blackman.

MARITAL BLISS . . .

Mrs. Lubertha Johnson held an open house for all her many friends to commemorate the 60th wedding anniversary of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Golden Miller. . . The happy couple who are shooting at their diamond anniversary celebrated the event with dinner on the Strip.
