

We're Been WONDERING

WHY for a marriage to be successful, it requires falling in love over and over again, always with the same person.

WHY that certain gent who claims knowledge of every intent and purpose of all dedicated civic-minded and community workers in our area doesn't lend a helping hand if he's so dissatisfied with their approach and method to resolution of community problems--(Could be that his kicks come from stretching his lips).

WHY that mentally stagnated (in the ways of the world) youngster who is adorned in security guard raiment doesn't wise up--Officers of the Law and Business Folk, alike, are always nice to Informers and Handkerchief-heads. Reason: they can be bought so cheap and sold for so little.

WHY there isn't a special section (like a sound-proof isolation booth) set aside for non-spending, loud-mouthed annoying bar customers.

WHY that disruptive group of agitators, apparently eager for unrest, discontent, and controversy don't present their beefs to the City Commissioners instead of continually trying to blow up minor incidents into major conflicts.

WHY the American premise of Justice that an accused person is considered innocent until proven guilty is made a mockery of when fair "lily white womanhood" is at stake. (That "Judge?" didn't exhibit any horror at the admission of the "fair white lady" that she had shackled up for six months with a policeman)--He could have been a brother, too.

WHY the sequences of 17-27-37-41-42-43-49-56, and 1-4-11-12-13-14-21-31 are supposed to be lucky for persons born in April, May and June.

WHY the Judases that blew the whistle on that well-liked businessman-politician don't turn a scrutinizing eye on themselves. If their twisted consciences would permit, they might recall the times they asked for (and received) help from this benefactor whose kindnesses were returned in the manner of ungrateful dogs. (Although, personally, we have never encountered even a cur so low.)

WHY some of those broads around town who are treating present opportunities of a lifetime like a dose of castor oil, don't check with the A.E.C. (Atomic Energy Commission), Mercury, and the Telephone Company. The MDTA Program (Manpower and Development Training Act) prepared many sincere persons for better jobs. Unfortunately who, otherwise, would remain in the same old rut. (Poor Henry was a MDTA graduate in '65).

WHY Mr. Sight and Sound (A.W.) doesn't get hep to the Frankie and Johnny situation that he has created. (Good Loving will do it every time).

WHY that certain big business outfit with extensive holdings in Bronzeville treats qualified Bronze brothers in such a niggardly fashion where desk jobs are concerned.

Vietnam policy. This fickleness, this seeming lack of commitment is what limits their value to the movement.

Civil rights demonstrations, as we knew them, have diminished. Many of the necessary laws have been passed, others are pending, many strongholds of segregation have been breached, others are crumbling. The time has come for that most crucial and hardest effort of all--to go into the neighborhoods and slums to organize and help people to deal effectively with their problems.

THIS WILL TAKE energy and determination which cannot be diverted at will to any other issue which happens to come on the scene. It is of no use to the future of the movement and of the nation if, at this crucial moment, yesterday's demonstrators and pickets swap their civil rights signs for anti-war banners and turn their backs on the immense job that remains to be done here at home.

There are always issues around for people who get their kicks out of demonstrating. But for people who are genuinely interested in the society in which they live, for those who are interested in Selma as they are in Saigon, the civil rights movement has entered a phase in which the need for willing hands and willing hearts has never been greater.

The dissident liberals are greatly in need of political maturity--in the realization that politics and social change is never an all-or-nothing affair.

Progress does not come from sulking over a single issue to the exclusion of other major points. Statesmen cannot be boosted one day and then dropped the next.

New heroes can't erase their records. Those who criticize President Johnson over Vietnam must realize that his domestic program--medicare, urban aid, anti-poverty programs, aid to education and other far-seeing measures mark the beginning of a new era in American life.

Yet many liberals ignore this impressive record of accomplishing what they have been fighting for for years and work themselves into a lather over Vietnam. Constructive criticism is always welcome but the tendency seems to be ignored, the whole program instead if reasonably dissenting from part of it.

Just because he is a spokesman for the Administration on Vietnam does not mean that Hubert Humphrey is not entitled to the same admiration liberals had for him when as a young Mayor of Minneapolis, he led the fight against the Dixiecrats at the 1948 Democratic Convention. Just because they agree with him on Vietnam is no reason for liberals to forgive Sen. Fulbright's poor record on civil rights.

Consistency is a virtue many of these liberals are in need of cultivating, for the current impression they leave is that of flitting from issue to issue without the commitment to the hard work and single-mindedness necessary to complete the civil rights revolution.
