Jo Mackey Cheer Committee Aid Needy

WHATEVER THE SEASON, Color the Jo Mackey School PTA and its special "Cheer Committee" made up of the teaching staff and teacher's aids, BENEVOLENT. . . Hardly had the frosting set on the Cake that the PTA baked and carried to the Pedro Coronado home, along with an assortment of frozen goodies, to celebrate the birthday of the unemployed father of seven children (three of whom attend Jo Mackey School) than the Ladies Bountiful were off on another mission.

NEWS of the distressed Roma Jean Hunt, mother of six, who had been burned out reached Jo Mackey--and Yes, you've guessed it.

"Frederick Douglass Years" Dramatized

DETROIT--More than 1,300 copies of a new long-play record album, dramatizing the life and times of Frederick Douglass (1817-1895), greatest American Negro of the 19th century, were donated to 400 of the state's public and college libraries at a civic dinner.

A silver recording of the new album, "The Frederick Douglass Years," first of its kind, also was presented to Mrs. Fannie H. Douglass, Washington, D.C., representing the heirs of the famous Negro leader.

MRS. DOUGLASS, widow of Frederick Douglass' grandson, Joseph, is an educator and civic leader. A product of Atlanta University, Oberlin Conservatory of Music and Columbia University, she taught music in the secondary schools of Washington, D.C., for 35 years.

She helped raise funds to restore the Douglass home, "Cedar Hill" at Anacostia, D.C., now administered by the U.S. National Park Service. She presently maintains the Highland Beach (Md.) home built by Douglass in 1895.

The new historical album will be circulated soon in all major centers throughout the U.S.
