FISH SMOKING

There's nothing more delicious than hickory-smoked fish. Here's a quick and simple way to make a smoker and prepare fish in this succulent mode

CLEAN AND SCALE your fish, leaving head and tail on. If your fish weighs more than a pound and a half, filet the fish.

Prepare enough brine solution to cover the prepared fish. Dissolve 2 cups of salt in a gallon of water to make proper solution. Let your fish soak in the brine for at least 8 hours. If your fish, or filets are thick, soak 10 hours.

Rinse your brine-soaked fish with fresh water and pat fish dry with paper towels.

Your fish is now ready for smoking. An excellent "smoke house" can be made from an old refrigerator--one with metal panels inside--(not plastic, because the plastic is likely to blister or ignite if smoking temperature goes above 150 degrees.)

PLACE YOUR FISH on the shelves of the refrigerator so that the edges of your fish do not touch the sides or other pieces of fish. There must be an area completely surrounding each fish, or piece of fish, to allow the flesh to smoke evenly.

Place a single-burner hot plate in bottom of refrigerator. Turn it on "low heat". Cover the hotplate coils with enough pieces of well-soaked hickory chips.

Close the "smokehouse" door and let her smoke for 10 to 12 hours. When you take your smoked fish out of the smoker, you are in for a treat when you taste that completely different taste in fish.

The fish needs no further cooking. It can be eaten just as it comes out of the "smokehouse". The smoked fish should be kept refrigerated to prevent mold and spoilage.

If you plan to keep the smoked fish for a period of time, you should double wrap each piece in freezer paper, and store in deep freeze.

FERD HERNANDEZ, Las Vegas promising Middleweight, held highly favored (and highly-ranked) JOSE GONZALES to a draw in a rousing match in San Juan, Puerto Rico, Saturday night...GONZALES, the San Juan Champion, never could get off an attack against the speedy American who consistently crashed rights off JOSE'S jaw every time the favorite tried to mount a persistent attack. With this kind of fighting, FERD HERNANDEZ'S rating is bound to skyrocket, and it just may be that he'll be taking a peek at the Middleweight Championship in the near future....HERNANDEZ and his astute manager, BILL MILLER, return this week to begin a weekly show at the SILVER SLIPPER. The All American Boys Club wishes them much success.

RED WILLIAMS' well spoken of Middleweight, HENRY BANKS, gets his first crack at professional fighting at the Fremont tonight (Thursday)...Main attraction on the bill is our own ROSELLE MOSELEY fighting under the tutelage of STAN TISCHLER and IRVIN STARR of Ace Loan Co....Back to RED WILLIAMS--Everybody's happy to see him back at his old stomping ground--SUGAR HILL.

The International Scene...

Having reached the pinnacle of golfing glory with his victory in the British Open, JACK NICKLAUS is ready to start all over again--that is, to win all the major golf titles, again, after becoming the fourth golfer ever to accomplish this great feat...Russian ALELONDES METREVELLI overcame a two set disadvantage, Sunday, to defeat Wimbledon Champion, MANUEL SANTANO of Spain - 3-6, 2-6, 6-1, 7-5, 6-4 in the International Tennis Tournament... Same day, the powerful UNITED STATES SWIMMING TEAM made a clean sweep of 11 events on the opening day of a two-day dual meet against Poland.

On the National scene, and in the National League, those rampaging PITTSBURGH PIRATES are now in second place in the National League with the entire team giving it that old "All Together Team Play" pitch--One for All, and All for One... With the GIANTS still showing the way at the All-Star break, it looks like a fight to the finish with the GIANTS as NL Champions, DODGERS, 2nd, and the hard-fighting PIRATES, 3rd.

In the local Little League, the TEXAS PIT DODGERS send best wishes to their sponsor, GENE LEWIS, owner of the TEXAS PIT BAR-B-QUE, for a speedy recovery from his illness... The boys want him to know they will be in the winning column by the time he regains his good health... By the way, TEXAS PIT BAR-B-QUE is right across the street from BOB BAILEY'S SUGAR HILL.

That much-touted bout between BENNY FLAMINGO and K.O. BASS is OFF, we're sorry to say... The word is that BENNY chickened out of Saturday's scheduled fight, even though Q. B. BUSH of the COVE and GENE JEW of the EL RIO CLUB, his managers, had gone to a great deal of trouble, and laid out no little spending moola readying their boy. JOE LEE, K.O. BASS'S manager, is hoping to find another opponent... No matter what, SUGAR HILL definitely will be a fight center in the very near future.

The All American Boys Club sends their best wishes and heartfelt thanks to County Assessor, BILBRAY, and his son, a local attorney, for their continuing and willing help in making an all-out effort to find sponsors for the All American Boys Club. A Salute to a wonderful Dad and Son team.

BIRTHDAY "PITCH"

TIGER IN THE TANK of the North Las Vegas JC Tigers is the team's star pitcher, Leonard Davis--AND, having just hit a home run too, you think the Tigers didn't have a swinging celebration of Leonard's 12th birthday? From left, team mates Melvin Dixon, Donald Puifay, Jake McCarty, Robert Love, Elvin Flanagan, LEONARD DAVIS, team coach, George Tucker and his son, team bat boy, Allen Tucker, Thomas Calbert, Richard Fritz, and Charles Webb... Photo below shows toddler Andre Feazell "hamming it up" at his Uncle Leonard Davis' birthday party.
