to be as bad as Mr. Fahey says it is, we will probably attempt to seek out the younger people on the Westside, as they will be more militant than the established leadership".

I suggest to Mr. Pfaffl that if he is sincere concerning the problems on the Westside that he seek information elsewhere than from the PAL organization. I would further refer him to the April 21 issue of the VOICE which detailed the great swell of interest in the Westside poor after federal funds were made available to work with problems of the poor.

I am not at a loss for suggestions for the PAL organization, either, to utilize their "uniqueness", energies and charitable instinct.

There are a number of poor white people, including poor Catholics who need help. To utilize a worn, but true cliché, I would remind them that Charity begins at home.

We have Neighborhood Service Centers on the Westside. We have a "unique" self-help project. We have an involvement of the poor program. What we don't have is what we don't want--and that is PAL dictating to us, "providing" us with our needs and, of no small importance, PAL criticizing us. On the latter, it is my personal contention that PAL's vulnerability lies in that it is guilty of everything Fahey said of Negro leadership.

LOOKING FOR A JOB?

If you are 16 to 21 years old, from a low income family, and meet the enrollment requirements, the Neighborhood Youth Corps has a job for you.

Project Director, Doyle Longhurst, announced this week that there has been an increase of 500 additional job openings in Clark County in a wide variety of occupational fields. Positions are available immediately and all qualified youth will be accepted, including those who have been attending school or will be enrolled in the Fall.

Apply at the Youth Opportunity Center, 629 Las Vegas Blvd., North, 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., Monday through Friday.
