

We've Been WONDERING

WHY so many persons clutter their yards with broken down autos and many other useless monstrosities. The exterior of homes is usually a strong reflection and expression of the persons living within.
? ? ? ? ?

WHY some persons entering into fields, (until recently closed to the "Soul Folk") don't heed the taboos of the business world--like carrying tales about fellow workers and giving blow-by-blow accounts of what should be personal and private.

WHY without being asked, that certain bartender (who answers to the name Garter Belt) explained that he got started on the road to bad habits by kissing hands. (Kissing Hands!)
? ? ? ? ?

WHY sun-tan lotion sales are better than ever these late days. Could it be that in case a rumble should start, certain factions want to be identified as blood.

WHY a certain Soul Brother, who made it to Bronzeville a few short months ago and right-a-way staked his claim on a prominent Goldfish, doesn't let the Beige one be, before Blade-E-Mae gets into the act. (Hint to the wise, ole podner)
? ? ? ? ?

WHY Mr. (big-brain) Charlie pays his brother Charlies almost twice what the Soul one receives though they are working side-by-side and performing the same chores. (Maybe the only reason he hired the one (1) Bro. in the first place was for window dressing.)
? ? ? ? ?

WHY the sequences of 14-24-34-44-5-15-25-80, and 51-52-55-57-59-72-73-74, are supposed to be lucky for persons born in October, November and December.
? ? ? ? ?

WHY someone doesn't invent a portable air conditioner for Autos for special use at drive-in theaters.
? ? ? ? ?

WHY that certain young pretty, who has recently decided to thumb her nose at society, doesn't take a good long look at her playmates and take note: Anything that corrupts the soul decays the body; the beauties of the face and mind are usually destroyed by the same means.
? ? ? ? ?

WHY the professional hair Hi-stylist for men doesn't take exception to the poorly-done home job that a certain over 40 Beige candidate is sporting (Gents please pull his coat, that the greasy kid stuff is passe)
? ? ? ? ?

WHY the training programs being offered by the Government don't include a little culture and grooming instructions. Looking a gift horse in the mouth is not intended, but someone should tell girls that sporting sleeveless dresses along with underarm wigs just isn't acceptable.
? ? ? ? ?

WHY modest Paul May doesn't stop hiding his real ability behind the pleasing personality a spell, and get the message across to some that are aspiring, that getting to the top is no accident; hard work is the order of the day, and the answer.
? ? ? ? ?

WHY it is so hard for some to realize that the problems of the leaders and the Police are our problems also. We are not asking anyone to be Stool Buzzards, but any little thing that is done to help prevent some of the senseless 'happenings' in Bronzeville is done for our own self-preservation and protection.

The Scene and The Seen

A picture may be worth a thousand words, but it isn't always what it appears to be-- You don't believe for a minute, do you, that Red Williams (r), Sugar Hill bartender, is really giving the heave-ho to stern-faced Armstead Sims, El Rio Club's Security Guard--More likely, he's just answering a customer's query "What happened to Drysdale?" The gesture answers it--"Gone to the shower again".

Mirror, Mirror, on the wall, who's the hammiest of all? If these diminutive characters don't hold a Screen Actor's Guild card, some awful "scabbing" is going on... Just point a camera in the direction of Johnny Bailey (l), Tony Quarles, and Kim Bailey, and you get action. Kim and Johnny are the pride and joy of Ann and Bob Bailey; Tony is the apple of Grandmother Alice Key's eye.

You think lady politicians don't know what makes a pretty picture? Eileen Brookman (l), Assemblymatic candidate and Gwen Weekes (Mrs. Democrat) show the local political scene to a lovely visitor while neatly placing her in the middle so that her smart black costume "shows off" their stunning white attire to a T--or should it be "D" inasmuch as the charming trio were caught at the recent Democratic Candidates night at the Flamingo Hotel.

Everybody says Rev. Leo Johnson is a 'shoo-in' for an Assembly seat--and you'd better believe it... Besides being infinitely qualified to represent the district in the Legislature, the astute candidate knows who gets candidates elected... Oh, come on, everybody knows the women do the work.

If you like your music hot, swinging, and cool, you gotta dig the Toronados, that great band from Texas Southern University in Houston, Texas, who've got the whole town finger snapping... Here, a trio of the groovy musical aggregation vocalize for the fans' pleasure at a recent dance at the Elks Hall.

Trios seem to be the "in" thing for the Scene this week--A classic picture of relaxation is George Edwards (l), Bank of Las Vegas employee as darling young Phyllis Gay seems undecided whether to stay or go... Ray Blankes, a candidate for Assembly from the NLV District is simply campaigning, or we don't know politicians at all.
