JOSE TORRES, World's Light Heavyweight Title Holder, who is training here to defend his title against EDDIE COTTON of Seattle, Washington, (and a worthy opponent to test the wares of TORRES) has really achieved a popularity rating since his arrival...All over town, you can hear praise of TORRES, not only as a great Champion, but as a gentleman in every respect, as well.

The Champ bends over backwards to be appreciative and respectful in equal measure to the largest and the smallest of his boxing followers. I have worked with many champions, but never one as nice and gracious as TORRES...And if you could have the pleasure of meeting his manager, Mr. CAIN YOUNG, and other members of TORRES' party including TORRES' wife, you, too, couldn't help but tip your hat to this well-organized team...true team work is displayed here all around... CAIN YOUNG is a successful New York Real Estate Broker. He met JOSE through a mutual friend... Now YOUNG needs a fighter like he needs a house, but after becoming acquainted with JOSE, he became so fond of him, not only as a fighter, but with the affection of a friend or a son. YOUNG says that exposed to TORRES' true sportsmanship qualities, his skills and grateful appreciation, he had but one choice--to help JOSE reach his goal. That opportunity did come, and YOUNG had to put up $125,000 to assure JOSE a shot at the title then held by WILLIE PASTRANO whom TORRES' K O'd to become the Light-Heavy King.

YOUNG said that he was in no way affiliated with boxing until his association with TORRES, and doubts if he will continue in the game after JOSE calls it a day, although he is called by many to consider helping promote various fighters in their campaign to the top. YOUNG says that after his Champ, JOSE--no more...And remember, he says, When JOSE is through with the Art of Self-Defense, no one will have to sing any sad songs for his Champ, because he is investing TORRES' earnings wisely.

The Champion has a great troupe with trainer JOHN MANZET and HENRY HANK, his leading sparring partner and a great fighter in his own right, seen many times on television in many a spectacular fight...Now you can see why the JOSE TORRES - CAIN YOUNG combination is so successful. YOUNG had HANK, a ranking contender, to come all the way from Detroit to be sure his Champion for the best of conditioning. HENRY, too, has won many friends and admirers, during his daily work-outs with the Champ.

The All American Boys Club salutes Champion JOSE TORRES, Mrs. TORRES, his astute manager, CAIN YOUNG, trainer JOHN MANZET, HENRY HANK, and also the Fremont Hotel fight sponsors who are extending every effort to make TORRES' party and friends comfortable and happy during their stay in Vegas.

AND, by the way, Yours Truly can be seen every afternoon at 1:30 training HENRY HANK and helping to ready the other sparring mates who are preparing the Champ for victory in his Convention Center debut, Aug. 15, where it will be Champion TORRES in 8 rounds.

Champion JOSE TORRES will attend the boxing show, Friday, at the Boys Club...Come out--regular visitors to the weekly Friday boxing shows at the All American Boys Club that begin at 8 p.m. are HARRY REID, HENRY DUCKETT, County Assessor Bilbray, and the Batman of the COVE--Q.B.BUSH.
