

Senior Citizens and the Gov

SPECIAL!

GOVERNOR GRANT SAWYER was guest of honor at a pot-luck luncheon-meeting of Senior Citizens of Clark County, Inc., at their Lorenzi Park Headquarters Tuesday. Sawyer, the first Nevada Governor to initiate an investigatory council for the needs of the aged, and a militant supporter of meaningful programs for the aged, was the happiest Nevadan present...With the possible exception of Senior Citizens Ethel Bold, Connie Hams, and Oscar Hunt, shown with the Governor in above photo--In photo right, it is anybody's guess as to who is the happiest--With the Governor, here, are Dorothy Johnson, Assistant to the Executive Secretary of Senior Citizens of Clark County, Inc., Ann Matius (right).

Denver Stands Tall

By JOE BROWN

DENVER - (NPI)--Whitney M. Young Jr., executive director, National Urban League, arrived last week to address the National Rehabilitation association in the Denver Hilton hotel, in the fashionable downtown sector.

However, shortly after arrival, he found the Hotel and Restaurant Workers union hard at work picketing the Hotel. The Hilton had been under seige for almost a week in a wage dispute ere Young arrived.

YOUNG, however, along with Mayor Tom Currigan, refused to enter the hotel where both were to speak. Young was supposed to have delivered the keynote address.

Mayor Currigan issued a statement, saying he did not know what the strike was about, but it was not his practice to break a picket line. Neither could be contacted at press time, since they were at lunch--not at the Hilton.

Young held a press conference at the Brown Palace hotel. Mayor Currigan, who was supposed to extend greetings to the annual convention, instead mailed his greetings by special courier. "I am sorry," his message said, "that I cannot deliver this welcome in person. Both in public and private life, it has always been a strong conviction of mine never to cross a legitimate picket line."

Young left town immediately after his press conference. Union members were delighted that their impact was recognized and felt.

HELLO DOLLY

NEW ORLEANS - (ANP)--Internationally famous, trumpeter Louis Armstrong was sued for $100,000 recently by a man who claimed he was libeled in a book which Armstrong either wrote or caused to be written titled "Satchmo, My Life in New Orleans."

The plaintiff, Joe Segretto, claimed the book about Armstrong pictured him as having a "tough character who made a lot of money in a big prostitution business" in New Orleans' red light district.
