

WHO'S WHO and doing what

By EDDYE K. KIM

NOW THE WORLD
COMES TO HIM

Like most individuals who "love to travel", the fascination lies as much in meeting people as it does in seeing places. Such is the case with personable Horace Brown whose expertise in his trade as a first-class waiter has given him much opportunity to travel in answering demands for his service from the better restaurants from coast to coast including a tenure of reciprocal enjoyment of employment service along fabulous Restaurant Row in Los Angeles.

In his new Captain's job in the Skillet Room of the Desert Inn Hotel, Horace Brown has the delightful advantage of meeting people from all over the world who come to him for his valuable services now, and it looks as though that, except for an occasional vacation trip, Mr. Brown's days as a 'traveling man' are about over.

Your columnist does not mind admitting that she was impressed at her first exposure to suave Horace Brown, and readily understood why he easily made the lists of "most eligible bachelors", "most sought after extra men," and the Smart Set's "preferred guests".

On the occasion of my introduction to the gentleman, he arrived at the home of our hostess with two bottles of champagne (one under each arm). It was noted that this type of gesture was the norm--with deviations. It might have been a box of candy or two-dozen red roses.

What is most impressive about this young man is that despite the much talked about trappings of a luxurious, impeccably appointed apartment, and a white Jaguar, he is a genuinely down-to-earth regular guy.

While we're on the private business of the Desert Inn Skillet Room personnel, we might mention that Maitre'd Hamilton Jackson recently had a pleasant surprise when he looked up to find the next patron 'demanding' his attention was his old golfing buddy, Harvey Havenhimer, public relations man for "The Supremes" currently enjoying a highly successful engagement at the Flamingo Hotel. Naturally, the two old friends' first 'get-together' was a round of golf, after which, Mrs. Jackson joined them for the kind of dinner only those experienced in restaurant service know how to order.

'66 DEBS ACTIVITIES SWING INTO HIGH GEAR

For those who are socially motivated, the announcement of the lucky girls who have been selected as "Debs of the Year" evokes tears and cheers. For weeks, prior to the announcement, various committees have been hard at work at their assigned duties. Even while the selection committee is making the final determination as to who will make their bow to society, other committees are busily engaged in planning the myriad of activities associated with the yearly introduction of society's debutantes.

The pattern remains unchanged. This year's crop of debutantes are happily immersed in a whirlpool of meetings, rehearsals, community duties, and parties--all pre-requisites of the long-awaited date of November 12 when the young lovelies are formally presented to society.

Recently, these busy young ladies, along with their mothers; their sponsoring organization, Les Femmes Douze, the young men accepted as eligible as escorts for the '66 Debs worshiped at the Second Baptist Church, breakfasted at the Silver Slipper where they talked about the many exciting things happening in their lives presently.

They are modestly proud of the acknowledgment accorded the individual volunteer work

PARTY FOR JUDGE COLLINS SWINGS

IN "HIS HONOR'S" HONOR--Leola and Bryn Armstrong's party for Judge Jon Collins Saturday night was such a festive affair, it has to be categorized as a social event despite the array of politicos present, and it's no question that the Armstrongs are the top vote getters for the most gracious hosts.

Sid and Friends

HEARTIEST BEST WISHES for a quick recovery were extended to Sidney Bishop (standing) by Dr. Charles West (left) and son, John, who were among a bevy of friends visiting the Bishop home on the eve of Bishop's departure for a Santa Barbara hospital for back surgery.... Those heartiest best wishes were no heartier than the dinner fare comprised of Sidney's favorite dishes that loving spouse, Mary, served to the family friends.

(Mary, who flew to Santa Barbara to be with Sidney during the surgery) has returned home and reports that hubby is convalescing beautifully.

each Deb was engaged in this summer with a variety of community projects. They agreed that the Patio Party in their honor at the home of Les Femmes Douze President, Mrs. Donald Kirkland, where dancing was the order of the evening, was one of the happiest evenings for them while it provided them with experience in sophisticated socializing.

One of the most enjoyable and 'fun' occasions was a cookout at Mt. Charleston where the Debs (making the transition from girlhood to womanhood), had a ball climbing mountains, gathering pine cones, roasting weiners and cooking hamburgers over an open fire. Long in their memories will remain their retreat to Lee's Canyon where they spent the night under the chaperonage of the Sponsor Club Members, Mesdames, Kirkland, Taylor, and Blackman.

No small part of their chores for preparation for the Big Event is frequent dance rehearsals at the Roberts School of Dance under the tutelage of Mrs. Roberts, personally.

VERY PERSONAL NOTES

It was a great fun renewing 'old acquaintance' over dinner with our old friend, Henry (Runt) Johnson of San Francisco on his recent visit here. Henry and his wife, Marie, lived here in Las Vegas a few years ago.

We wish to extend our belated, but most heartfelt sympathy to the Kermit Booker Family in their recent loss. Mr. Booker was sincerely involved in constructive community affairs. His wise and generous leadership in many areas of activity will be acutely missed. Memorable, among his contributions, particularly among his fraternity brothers, will always be the fact that he singly was responsible for the establishment of the Las Vegas Chapter of his beloved Kappa Alpha Psi Fraternity.
