The VOICE Agrees

THE CHOICE IS EASY

(Following is a reprint of the Las Vegas Review-Journal's editorial endorsement of Governor Grant Sawyer's Candidacy for re-election. It speaks for itself, and expresses the viewpoint of the Las Vegas VOICE totally and unequivocally)

AN EDITORIAL ☆ ☆ ☆

Proven Leader

In the past eight years Gov. Grant Sawyer has guided the state of Nevada through a period of unprecedented growth and prosperity.

The chief executive has handled himself and the problems of the state well. He has pushed for tougher law enforcement. He has conducted a relentless search for new industry for the state of Nevada and worked for the improvement of all of the state institutions.

On several occasions during his two terms in office, the Governor has stood pat against the forces of big government. He has battled for the right of Nevada to handle its own affairs. Most recent of his attempts to prevent infringement on states rights by the federal government in his outspoken attack on the Federal Bureau of Investigation. He has demanded that J. Edgar Hoover, FBI Director, produce evidence to support his claim that Nevada gambling plays a major role in the nation's organized crime and racketeering.

Gov. Sawyer has stood his ground on this vital issue and on others.

He was one of the first public officials in the state to take a position on the rights of minority races in Nevada. He met repeatedly with Negro leaders and played a major role in the passage of the state's first civil rights law. Consequently, Sawyer was instrumental in the creation of the Nevada Equal Rights Commission.

The Governor attained a degree of national stature by serving simultaneously as chairman of the Western Governors' Conference and Chairman of the National Governors' Conference. He has been granted audiences with both Presidents John F. Kennedy and Lyndon B. Johnson. Furthermore, Sawyer has indicated an ability to work with members of the state's congressional delegation in Washington.

As chief of the Democratic administration in Carson City, Sawyer took significant steps in streamlining state government. His reorganization plan, the bulk of which was approved by the legislature, combined many of the state boards and commissions into manageable super agencies. Such a plan was long overdue.

Sawyer is seeking an unprecedented third term. There are those who believe it is time for a change, that Republican Lt. Gov. Laxalt should succeed Sawyer in the statehouse.

We question the idea of change for the sake of change and endorse Grant Sawyer's bid for reelection. He has been a good governor and little evidence has been offered to indicate that he will not continue to serve the state as he has during the past eight years.

The candidacy of John P. Foley for Lieutenant Governor offers Nevada voters an enviable opportunity for a dynamic one-two punch in bold, progressive leadership. A victory for Foley would provide Governor Sawyer with harmonious support and aid rather than vexatious apatness and hostility.

Once again, the time has come for those of us who have enjoyed the benefits of positive leadership to exercise our responsibility as citizens. By casting our vote for Governor Grant Sawyer, we have an opportunity to voice our approval and appreciation of good leadership.

As Nevada has grown, so has the Negro populace of the State. It is an embarrassing commentary on our political activity if we continue to fail to have Negro representation in legislative office. We are indeed fortunate to have opportunity to elect a Negro of Woodrow Wilson's character, ability and principle to the State Legislature.
