DESERT SPREE OVER

Like the swallows return to Capistrano, many Easterners will be returning home after their annual winter visit to this swank desert resort.

Returning East, after an extended stay, is tall, tan, and terrific Judson (Luck Box) McDowell, who is headed for Chicago where he will be a clocker for the Daily Racing Form until the season opens in Atlantic City where, for many years, he has been engaged as Maitre'd in that resort's Club Harlem.

In Chicago, Luck Box will be the house guest of his cousin, Mack Jones, rich and handsome son of the late Ed Jones of the Windy City and Mexico City's famous Jones boys.

Mack visited "Luck Box" here in Las Vegas several weeks ago and the two picked up enviable tans to show off to their Eastern buddies.

OTHER NAMES in the news are Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Johnson of Chicago who have been wintering in their Doolittle Ave. home... AND coming out soon for their annual stay at their desert hime will be Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Lightfoot and their daughter, Marylyn, who so much enjoys sun-bathing around the Lightfoot's pool.

ELEGANT RECEPTION FOR NEWLYWEDS

Marble Manor was the setting for the lovely wedding reception of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Sykes (nee Rose Wickliffe) hosted by the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Wickliffe, and Mrs. Elsie Sykes, mother of the groom.

The pretty bride was radiant in an ankle-length sequin-trimmed pea green gown. The mothers of the bride and groom shared fashion honors--Mrs. Wickliffe in black and pink lace and senior Mrs. Sykes in orange knit. Mrs. Robert J. Brooks, a cousin of the bride's assisted the charming hostesses.

The handsome young couple were married in February at Cupid Chapel on Las Vegas Blvd., with Gloria Ellis standing as bridesmaid and Murray Robinson serving as best man.

DELTA DEBS

Members of Les Femmes Douze (Ladies 12 Club), sponsors of the annual Debutante Cotillion Ball, 12 prospective debs and their mothers gathered at convivial "Tea Party" at the Zion Methodist Church Social Hall for the introductory session of many necessary to launch the much-anticipated annual event. The occasion of the recent Tea afforded the mothers opportunity to get acquainted with each other. For the young ladies who will soon make their social bow, it was a question and answer period while they all viewed post debs Savannah Brown, Brenda Cooper, Sandra Holmes, and Leynette Taylor model their beautiful gowns from last year's Cotillion Ball.

New Officers of the sponsoring Women's group are Eva Simmons, President; Esther Langston, Vice President; Dorothy Taylor, Recording Secretary; Ruth Hicks, Corresponding Secretary, and Margaret Crawford, Treasurer.

DEMO WOMEN'S LUNCHEON A PARADE OF FASHIONS

It might have been the Easter Parade so fashionable were the "bonnets" worn by members and women guests of the Democratic Women's West at the organization's Installation-Luncheon Sunday at the Showboat Hotel... There were hats of every shade to be found blooming in the most colorful garden. A new note of popularity was the slouch-brimmed "a la Garbo" type. Especially pretty was the newly-installed President, Lula V. White, most fetching in a white organdy hat. Outgoing Prexy, Gloria Rome,
