A LOVELIER YOU
Miss Teen

When a boy steps on a girl's toes, who is the awkward one? More than likely, it's the girl, if she has allowed her feet to get into a vulnerable position.

There would be fewer embarrassing mishaps if the feet were more carefully managed...like being careful they are never protruded into the aisle of a bus and that always they are tucked safely under a chair in crowded places...But these are elementary examples, on with the finer points, such as turning around to talk with a boy who is standing directly behind you.

Do you swirl or teeter like a toddler? It's simpler to give a smooth performance by centering the weight on the ball of the right foot, pivot on toe until in about-face position. It is the little things like this that add grace and poise to the general demeanor and carriage of young ladies, a teen-ager can't begin too soon to pick up on the little niceties that lend to her over-all attractiveness.

A NOTE FOR HIGH SCHOOL JUNIORS AND SENIORS

It is Spring "Prom" time and time to check up on your party manners. Here is a list of "True or False" statements that will test your knowledgeability. Just for fun, give yourself this test--mark each of the following statements true or false. Answers are at the end of this column.

- (1) A boy usually sends or takes flowers to his date for this event.
  - (2) A girl usually buys a lapel flower for her date to wear.
  - (3) When calling on a girl, for a date, the boy drives up to the girl's house, honks the horn, and waits for the girl to come out to the car.
  - (4) The girl saves the first and last dance, as well as the one following the intermission, for her escort.
  - (5) When her partner has thanked her (and thank her he should) for the dance when the music stops, the girl should say "thank you" in return.
  - (6) If a girl misses a few steps while dancing, she should apologize to her partner.
  - (7) A boy should ask the chaperone to dance.
- Don't forget to check the correct answers at the conclusion of Who's Who.

LOCAL SOCIALITE AWARDED POST IN INTERN'L CLUB

Little did Mrs. Till (Thelma) Toms realize when she and her spouse left to attend the Annual Spring Meeting of the Afro-Negro International Club held last week at the famed Lake Merced Boat House in San Francisco that she had been singled out for a most important position in this unique organization. Mrs. Toms was selected by the founder, Alhaji S. Fashola, to fill the position of U.S.A. Director of Membership.

Mr. Fashola founded the organization in Nigeria for the development of cultural and educational public relations of peoples in the business and professional fields throughout the world. At the San Francisco meeting, many national and international celebrities, some of whom were Africans colorfully attired in native costumes, were in attendance.

Mrs. Leontyne King of Los Angeles, well known in social circles here in Las Vegas as she is all over the nation, was appointed U.S.A. Executive Director of Libraries and Text Books. Mrs. King serves on the Los Angeles Library Commission.

Mrs. Toms is enthusiastic over the news that a Chapter will be set up in Las Vegas soon by Mrs. Don Byron (Martha) McCune, West

IBPOEW GROUP FETE ELKS "MRS. GRAND"

CHICAGO - (NPI)--Mrs. Evelyn Crawford Reynolds, wife of Hobson R. Reynolds, Grand Exalted Ruler of the Elks, will be honored May 6 with an "Appreciation Dinner-Dance" to be given in her name by the John Brown Shrine Redevelopment Department of the IBPOEW.

Mrs. Reynolds, who has traveled extensively throughout the United States and abroad organizing women's temples for the fraternal organization, will be honored for her "long and meritorious contribution to Elksdom," according to Mrs. Margarite Wilkerson, local Elks publicist.

IN ADDITION to being a Grand Organizer in the women's department for IBPOEW, Mrs. Reynolds is an author and poet laureate, with a best-seller book of poems titled "Put a Daisy in Your Hair."

She is also a member of the NAACP and of the boards of the National YMCA and the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom, as well as many other organizations.

The John Brown Shrine is "going all out to make the dinner-dance a tremendous tribute to Mrs. Reynolds," Mrs. Wilkerson said.

BACK TO SCHOOL AS MR. & MRS.

Laverne Wilkins claimed Mildred Whalum as his bride, Saturday, at the Las Vegas court house. Mildred is the daughter of Mrs. Minnie Scott of Las Vegas and the groom's parents are Mrs. James Johnson and Lewis Wilkins of Chicago.

The pretty bride wore a cafe au lait two-piece suit with blue accessories. A reception for 50 guests followed the ceremony at the home of the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Whalum. Mrs. Scott received her daughter's guests wearing a pink brocade gown and purple accessories. The groom's mother wore a royal ribbon knit. Assisting as hostesses were the Mesdames Letha Whalum, Juanita Dukes and Lorraine Rhodes.

The newlyweds will make their home in Los Angeles where they both are attending Los Angeles City College.

Guests of Mrs. Peggy Cheatom at the birthday party she hostessed for her husband, Irving, will long remember the occasion...Mrs. Cheatom, a resident of Los Angeles, was transferred here to work at the Broadway Department Store in the capacity she has held so long in one of the Company's Los Angeles stores. Here, she makes her home with Mr. and Mrs. Ray Johnson on Eleanor Street...As Mrs. Johnson is the famed cateress who pens Food Forum for the VOICE, the sumptuous buffet served at the party had those present raving over the sheer artistry of the appearance of the lavish feast as well as the wizardry of the cooking. Among the guests who filled the Johnson home were a large contingent of Mrs. Cheatom's fellow employees at the "Broadway" who brought Irving a huge cake, magnificently decorated with all the items dear to him and residents of The Best City Of Them All--cards, dice, roulette wheel, silver dollars, etc.

Phase 2 Of Community Aid To Education Plan

Mrs. Helen Anderson, left, Kit Carson Elementary School Principal, and Kit Carson school teacher, Mrs. Barbara Kirkland, right, are presented a check for $100 by Mrs. Sam Pink (standing next to Mrs. Anderson) and Mrs. Herbert Rouso from the Sisterhood of Temple Beth Shalom. Mrs. Pink is President-Elect of the Sisterhood and Mrs. Rouso is Chairman of the organization's Social Action Committee.

In the March 9 issue of the VOICE, a pictorial account was given of the efforts of a group of housewives in the Las Vegas area who have committed themselves to service as volunteer aides in the Community Aid to Education program sponsored by the Ministerial Association. Mrs. Edythe Katz, who serves as coordinator of the volunteer group for the Association, reports that the response to the program is more than gratifying, and the involvement of the women volunteer aides grows more enthusiastic daily.

The most recent activity in the Community Aid to Education movement, is the Adoptive Program wherein organizations adopt an individual school. This gives women opportunity to assist the program who cannot commit themselves to regular hours of working in the schools as is mandatory of the aides. The Sisterhood of Temple Beth Shalom adopted the Kit Carson School, and it is indicative of the interest in the program held by these women that Mrs. Sam Speiser, the Temple's current President will replace Mrs. Rouso as Social Action Chairman so that Mrs. Rouso can work directly with the school. The Social Action Chairman serves as liaison between the organization and the school.

The money donated to the school will be used to defray expenses incurred from the school's recent camping trip, for speech tapes, educational toys for the smaller children, and for any extra curricular activities not afforded by the District.

Women of the Greek Orthodox Church have adopted Cashman Junior High School under the Adoptive Program and have provided much needed assistance in collecting books for the schools, furnishing material for students to make their gym uniforms in their home economic classes, and aid in any form where there is need.
