GRANT SAWYER

Former Governor Grant Sawyer will be guest of honor at a "strictly for kicks" party hosted by Paran Lodge #1508 of the IBPOEW at the Elks Hall (1004 West Owens Ave. in the West Owens Shopping Center) Sunday afternoon, July 23, 1967.

Willie Neal, Exalted Ruler of the local lodge, said that festivities will begin at 4 p.m., and that there is no admission charges, and no axes to grind. The Elks were prompted to throw a party for the popular ex-governor after hearing a number of comments from customers of the popular Elks' bar that "Sawyer sure is missed" and frequent remarks about "What a great guy Sawyer is".

Neal said the party will give opportunity for the former two-term governor to meet and relax with old friends and supporters. Everyone is invited to attend, and everyone who has heard about it, thus far, has vowed to be present.

Peace & Power Advocates Abandon Rights Struggle

BOSTON - (NPI)--The NAACP has charged that non-Negroes' participation in the struggle for racial advancement has been limited, if not excluded, by young black activists seeking "refuge in racial isolation."

In its annual report, the NAACP also said many young white people had left the rights movement to work in the peace movement.

Despite these losses for rights movement, the NAACP said it had gained membership and income in 1966.

NOTING THAT civil rights legislation was killed last year by Senate filibuster for the first time in nine years, the organization charged that "neither the peace advocates nor the black power advocates nor the rioters attempted to mobilize support for the legislation.

"That burden was carried almost solely by the NAACP. Some of the erstwhile supporters of civil rights legislation, both Negro and white, completely abandoned...the bill. They were in hot pursuit of other objectives."
