

VOICE PARTY HONORS COMMUNITY'S VOLUNTEER WORKERS

SMARTLY ATTIRED VISTA Volunteers Clara Bailey (left) and Marjorie Dudley are seen bidding farewell to VOICE editor Alice Key and the good Doctor--(that serious conversation to which Doc lends an attentive ear is about problems of recruitment for the VISTA's proposed tutorial program).

VOICE Food Editor Dorothy Johnson turns her back to camera as she dishes a meaty morsel of conversation to Leola Armstrong...VISTA Volunteer Jessie Hutchins is almost obscured while R. N. McSwain looks askance at something other. Pretty waitress Maxine Moore tempts a disdainful Carita Harbert (VOICE office manager) with more champagne (Reason for disdain?--glass was already full). Charming lady with one bright eye showing is Ernestine Fezell next to Sarah Ray. Jo Mackey Neighborhood Council Worker, who also gives her back to the camera. Evelyn Coleman, Matt Kelly Neighborhood Council Worker is pictured getting an earful of Dorothy's confidential chatter.

Lending a bit of beautiful charm to this otherwise stag table is Lounell McDaniel, wife of Lamar McDaniel, Project Director of Neighborhood Councils (seated next to her)...Other gentlemen (reading clockwise) are Fred B. French, Sr., with Fred Jr., and Attorneys Abe Lublin and Art Olsen.

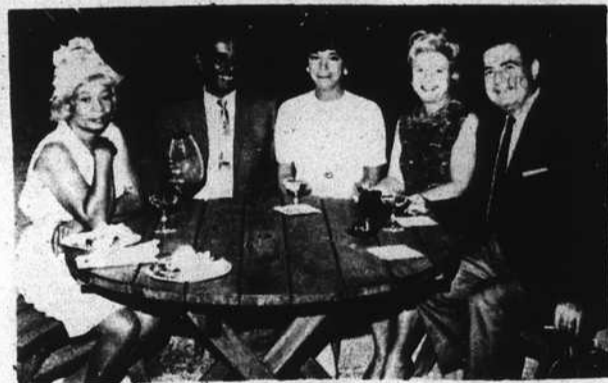

And What are YOU doing here?--Might well have been the opening conversational gambit when these Easterners surprised each other at the VOICE party. Lucky McDowell (left) who arrived only last week from his annual summer jaunt in Atlantic City via a Chicago stop-over faces Kayah Sales, New York sales representative dynamo who jets around the country considerably himself. Sarah Ann Knight is with house guest Audrey Whitmore who is on her annual jaunt to the West Coast from her home in New York.

Lamar McDaniel, foreground, graciously favors the camera with his attention this time as does Harold Ortega, No. Las Vegas Neighborhood Council Worker, who just arrived from a quick trip to Tucson, Arizona in time to be fashionably late for the VOICE party...Ladies engrossed in conversation are Leola Armstrong and Lillian Carter--a reunion of great friends.

Camera ready were (from left) Roy McCormick, Cal Bryant, Mary Bishop, Ray Feaster (VOICE Advertising Production Genius), Ray's gorgeous spouse, Daisy, Bea Bryant, Lucky McDowell and Eddy K. Kim who was doing a bit of table-hopping.

From left, VOICE society columnist Eddy K. Kim, Dr. and Mrs. West, and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Tell of the Las Vegas Israelite whose conversation was not newspaper talk at all. Believe it or not, the lively discussion was Show Biz.

Dottie West (standing) gives a typical "welcome back" greeting to vivacious Audrey Whitmore whose friends go in training for her periodic visits from "The Apple"...Seated with Audrey are Sarah Ann Knight and Salt Lake City's natty Chappie Johnson.
