

ANDERSON DAIRY OFFICIALS HOLD MEETINGS WITH SNHRC AND NAACP

Officials of the Anderson Dairy Company met with the Southern Nevada Human Relations Commission Tuesday night and stated the Company's abrupt removal of home delivery service in the Negro residential community was motivated only by an insufficiency of business in the area to warrant the service.

Company representatives also revealed to the Commission that a meeting had been scheduled for the following day (Wednesday) with representatives of the local chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People to discuss the threatened organized boycott of Anderson Dairy Products.

Unfortunately, the VOICE deadline precludes a report of the scheduled discussion on the issue.

LAS VEGAS

VOICE

Vol. 5, No. 43

LAS VEGAS, NEVADA

Thursday, October 26, 1967

"PUDDIN HEAD"

"TELL'N IT LIKE IT IS--- AND PUTT'N IT WHERE IT'S AT"

The Mongoose And Puddin Just Don't Like Toms

Hey Blood, get up tight with ole Puddin and dig me good. Puddin just read that little piece the VOICE ran on the Mongoose a few weeks back. It must have been the umpteenth time that Puddin had dug ole Archie Moore's one-two punch at Hate and Bigotry, but this last time was the boss time. Puddin picked up on a slightly different groove from the Mongoose this last time.

Ole Arch put it stone where it was at when he told about how much he loved the good old USA, and all about how he hated them that was tryin' to mess up our country. But, Blood, the part ole Puddin dug the most was when the ole Mongoose put out the message that he would put a big hurt on any Cat who called him an Uncle Tom.

Blood, Ole Arch hates Toms just as much as he hates snipers, looters, and draft dodgers. Puddin buys that kind of hate the old Champ was puttin' down. The devil don't hate holy water near as bad.

PUDDIN HATES Toms with a passion--and, just like ole Archie, Puddin ain't goin' to hold back no punches. Puddin goin' to tell it like it is and put it where it's at, Blood. We got some boss Toms in our woodpile, baby, and we Bloods have got to shake them Judases out of the woodwork--and, Puddin means rat now, baby--rat now, like yesterday, baby.

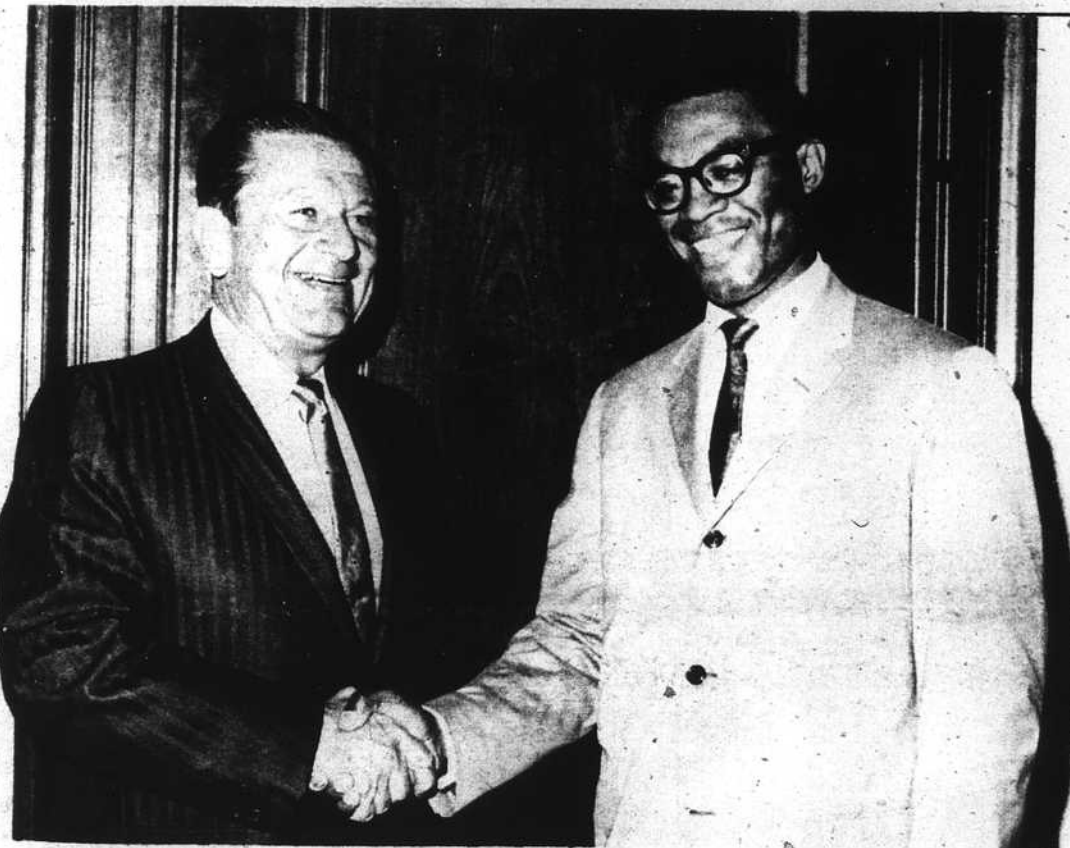

Every Tom we got among us is like another mountain to climb on our way to the pot of gold. Puddin gettin' weary, Blood, climbin' them mountains that ain't sposed to have been there in the first place.

Blood, we got to stop them mountains from gettin' in the way--they killin' us, baby. We wearin' our strength down to nothin' just battlin' the Benedict Arnolds in our ranks. We got to declare war on every Tom that crosses us up.

Let me tell you about some Toms by the dozen that Puddin and his birddogs been diggin' for the past week. Blood, we been hearin' about bein' cheaper by the dozen, but Puddin wouldn't let hisself believe that there was so many Soul Folk so damned cheap as to pick up a bottle of

(See PUDDIN, page 4)

Faith And Friendship Rewarded

SPECIAL CONGRATULATIONS--Nevada Sen. Howard W. Cannon congratulates Las Vegas' Robert Archie on his recent admission to practice law in the state. Archie, who worked on Cannon's staff in Washington while attending Howard University, stated "Enough cannot be said for the actions of the Senator on my behalf. He is, indeed, instrumental for the amount of success I have had in the past 8 years."

The tremendous pride in the young attorney Senator Cannon evinces is shared by many Las Vegas residents who have known "Bobby" all his life. The communal gratification felt at young Archie's accomplishments, to date, is the inspiration for the "local boy makes good" story on Robert Archie in this issue of the VOICE. (See page 7).

Supreme Court To Hear Open Occupancy Appeal

WASHINGTON - (NPI)--The Supreme Court may make fair housing the law of the land this year, in the same way it outlawed segregated schools in 1954.

Just as a novel interpretation of the 14th Amendment to the U.S. Constitution brought the house down on jim crow in education, a 101-year-old Civil Rights Act may be invoked by judicial mandate, to require open occupancy.

The law was passed in 1866 to implement the 13th Amendment, banning slavery.

Housing segregation may be ruled unconstitutional on the basis of a clause in the Act, which declares, "All citizens of the United States shall have the same right, in every state and territory, as is enjoyed by white citizens thereof, to inherit, purchase, lease, sell, hold, and convey real and personal property."

THE COURT itself was integrated, for the first time in history, by Thurgood Marshall, who could be expected to lean toward a ruling favoring open housing by court decree.

To be considered by the court is an appeal which contends that the 1866 law should be invoked to require open housing. The appeal was filed by Joseph Lee Jones and his white wife,

(See APPEAL, page 14)

Clarify Skycap Issue

McCarran Airport's Skycap Supervisor Ed Fly called the VOICE office to express, on behalf of the Skycaps, appreciation for community concern at the unhappy situation which has developed as a result of the contractual agency change-over.

Ed said that, in no way, has Western Air Lines let the Skycaps down. He explained that the whole hassle arose, months ago, when TWA began lobbying with other carriers for curb-side Skycap service. Western was perfectly willing to go along with the innovation if additional Skycaps would be hired to make the curb service feasible.

TWA was successful in winning over the other carriers at McCarran Field to support its demand for the service, without conceding to Western's plea for additional help mandatory for the service. Hence, Western Air Lines' relinquishment of the agency contract responsible for Skycap service and the resulting problem.

Western AIR LINES, Fly said, has been totally fair to the Skycaps during their whole tenure of association.