

HOLLYWOOD

THE SOUL SIDE

by Walter Burrell

NBC-TV documentary producer STUART SCHULBERG is now plotting a third subject on Watts which will deal with the Watts Writers' Workshop under the tentative title of "Three From Watts." First two subjects were "Angry Voices of Watts" and "Losers, Weepers."

Stuart's brother (and founder of the workshop), BUDD SCHULBERG, revealed that "From The Ashes," an anthology by 18 members of the Watts group, will be out on Nov. 7 and the book's publishers, the New American Library, will hold a press party on that date for the writers.

While Schulberg and his actress-wife, GERALDINE BROOKS, were in New York recently, they appeared on several radio and TV shows, including "Today," "The Merv Griffin Show" and "Girl Talk," plugging the book.

The RIGHTEOUS BROTHERS, NINO TEMPO & APRIL STEVENS and THE BLOSSOMS grossed a tidy $41,000 for one night at the Oakland (Calif.) Coliseum last week. Let's see; that's about $2,562 per hour for each of them. Whew!

Hollywood seems to be going to the animals these days. As if Lassie, Gentle Ben the bear and Clarence the cross-eyed lion weren't enough, now Columbia Pictures has announced they will make a movie about a timid English clerk who inherits a beer-drinking elephant.

HARRY BELAFONTE and ALAN KING combined their talents last Sunday in New York's Lincoln Center to co-star in a special benefit for the Foundation for International Child Health.

QUINCEY JONES has written an original song for "The Man Who Believed" episode of Universal's "Ironside" series. The song, titled "Even When You Try," will be sung by guest star MARCIA STRASSMAN.

There are picket lines against everything from Viet Nam war to civil rights these days, and now even female impersonators are forming picket lines.

A case in point occurred in Los Angeles recently when a female impersonator billed as SIR LADY JAVA, barred by the L.A. Police commission from working without a "special permit" inside REDD FOX's nitery two weeks ago, staged a three-hour march outside the place last weekend to protest the police ruling.

Placards carried by Sir Lady Java, in female attire, and seven cohorts, in male clothes, asked for "the right to work" as entertainers. No incidents occurred.

A special commendation honoring RAY CHARLES on his 20th anniversary in show business was made from the House of Representatives in a special resolution introduced by the honorable Charles Joelson of New Jersey. Tribute to the blind singer was paid him for his numerous charitable and professional achievements.

St. Louis Cardinal pitcher BOB GIBSON has been signed by producer GEORGE SHERMAN for a role in an episode of "Gentle Ben." The story has a baseball theme and filming will begin Nov. 10 in Miami.

Ex-boxing champ SUGAR RAY ROBINSON has been signed for an important role in "The Detective," movie starring FRANK SINATRA, MIA FARROW and LEE REMICK which is currently in production in Hollywood. Robinson will portray a New York policeman and friend of a detective.

BILL COSBY is the latest personality to join the musicians local as an active member. The comic-actor-singer also plays several percussion instruments.
