

SPOTLIGHTING
THE

By Dr. Roy George de Hay

A Tale Of Lost Hopes

Once upon a time there was a very great nation. This nation was so great and produced so much that it could feed the entire world. This nation was a large nation and the country was blessed with abundance. Its area was more than three million square miles. Some parts were like Switzerland and other parts were like the tropical and semi-tropical parts of the earth. However, because this nation was so big and rich the people that were the citizens began to play foolish games. One tenth of the citizens said "We are not going to vote, because John F. Kennedy is dead, Martin Luther King is dead and also Robert Kennedy."

This great nation did not realize that they were given all the good things that other people wanted. They owned or were buying most of the automobiles, televisions, radios, refrigerators and homes. Just about anyone with ability and time could earn a Ph. D. degree.

Everyone had time for recreation, fishing, hunting, bowling, traveling and even indulging in just about everything that their hearts desired. Then one day the people thought that they had a Utopia. Everything was so good that no one had to do anything to keep this good life and to make it better.

This is just a story, but it reminds this columnist of a recent and popular ditty. As the ditty goes it tells the story of the unicorn. Once upon a time the earth was green and everything was wonderful and fine. Then one day the Lord told Noah to build an ark. When the ark was built, the Lord told Noah to call all the animals into the ark.

The rats came, the lions came, the tigers came, the elephants came and even the pigs and the green alligators. The most beautiful beast was the unicorn. The unicorn did not get the message, maybe, because he was too stupid. When the rain fell and the flood mounted, the unicorn frolicked and played. So the unicorns all perished in the flood and the rain. So today we have no unicorns.

The moral of this story is this: THAT FOOLS AND LAZY PEOPLE LOSE THEIR GOD-GIVEN RIGHTS BECAUSE THEY FAILED TO USE THEIR MOST ESSENTIAL AND VITAL ASSETS. THE MOST VITAL ASSET BETWEEN EARTH AND HEAVEN IS YOUR VOTE.

Pre-Plan For Fire Emergencies

If you want to protect your family from the hazards of fire, pre-plan escape routes from every room in your home.

This is a special Fire Prevention Week recommendation from Fire Chief J. D. Miller.

"Planning ahead for fire emergencies would save the majority of lives lost yearly in home fires," says Chief J. D. Miller. "And home fires cause about 6,500 deaths annually, National Fire Protection Association records show."

He urges every family to follow these rules to avoid being trapped by fire:

1. Carefully figure out at least two routes to the outside from every room in the house.
2. Rehearse exit plans with every member of the family. Make sure the entire family, including the youngest children, knows what to do.
3. Always keep exit routes clear. Don't place stoves or space heaters near doors, or
