

Make Arrest In Mboya Case

NAIROBI, Kenya-- Police charged an African today with the assassination of political leader Tom Mboya, gunned down on a Nairobi street July 5.

Mboya's death touched off tribal clashes between his Luo tribe and the Kikuyu, who make up a majority of those in government and are the largest tribe in Kenya.

The man charged in court here and held without bail pending trial is Nashashon Isaac Njenga Njoroge.

Police declined to give his age, address, tribe or any other details, but Njoroge is a Kikuyu name.

A senior officer said the investigation was continuing.

GIRLS WILL BE GIRLS...AND HOW

This group of ex-show girls had an opportunity to get together last week, and how they got together. They laughed, sang, engaged in a few routines, re-lived some experiences, and lived it up. From left, Avanelle Lewis, Patsy Hunter, former Copa Cabana choreographer from New York, Edith Rankin, Gold's office manager; Rosa Lee Lincoln, former Cotton Club girl, and presently a buyer for Gold's Appliance Store, Los Angeles; Dottie West, and Bea Bryant. If you see a man peeking from the rear, it's Fred Bates, who surely is no former show girl.

Just the Facts

She really wasn't trouble, although that was her name. I wrote about her when I first started here. She was beautiful. So friendly...and kind...and affectionate. I wish I had a picture. I kept putting it off, and now it is too late. I shall never forget her, although I wish I could. She was a Xmas-present to Julie (that's my daughter) December 1967. We all went to the home of Ardine Loving, a wonderful person, for dinner. What a day it was...Ardine, Julie and I, and her cute little Collie-Sheppard.

If you're with an open Monday, I think this could be a real kick. Arnett Cobb, one of the gosh-darndest tenor-men ever to moisten a reed for his tenor sax, is building a new big band featuring Eddie "Cleanhead" Vinson, with an alto in his hands and some blues in his soul. They're at the Castle Palace, 3815 Live Oak, Houston, Texas.

That was a pretty lively discussion group at the Silver Nugget, the udder night...Lucille Pendleton, Mrs. Gwen Weekes Rahner, Councilman (NLV) Aaron Williams, Guy and Alma Sherman, and me. The steaks looked good, but Gwen's Shrimp Salad was a masterpiece.

May I offer a recommendation? Then, get over to The Hideaway, for a look-see at Milochi. He started off with The Soul Teachers but became The Soul Teacher. I don't dig his garb but I do perk up at his singing. And this just might be his forte.

Attorney Jessie P. Slaton, also a school teacher, is being asked to fulfill a speaking engagement here. She is a bolt-of-lightning-type speaker. Forceful, dynamic, and knowledgeable. She is aware. Usually makes others aware. Tells it just like it is. And has plenty guts. A most charming woman. Could have been this country's first Negro congresswoman, instead of Shirley Chisholm.

You should hear Hank Pesner and I throwing names around. Names like--Claude Brown, Andrew Hatcher, David Brinkley, Arlene Frances, Virginia Graham, Drew Pearson, Adam Clayton Powell. Know any of them?

George Kirby is thoroughly disgusted, or confused. He decided, Saturday, to call a bunch of phone numbers he had accumulated, during the years. And wouldn't you know this was the ambitious day the phone company decided to change a bunch of numbers. Most of the numbers George called received a recorded answer;--sorry, the number you are calling... has been disconnected. He couldn't believe everyone had gone broke. And he never thought that all new numbers had taken their places.
