

THE LORD'S HELPERS

By Lathaniel Dilligard

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

The world is dark; Christian's lights are needed, so let us be constant, everywhere we go. There is too much sorrow, gloom and tears. Too little faith and hope and too many fears.

God gave us faith that we might swing on high. Our lighted lamps, that others might not die. That others might believe in Him, not doubt. The Grace of God, what if our lights are out?

What if when others turn for help to us, we are so occupied with self, we fail to see another's need? What if our lamps are dim, and someone needing God should turn from Him?

We would not want someone to miss the way, because our hearts were faithless on that day.

So, constant, brightly let our candles glow; The world is dark, our lights are needed so.
