THEY DID IT AGAIN

The Ghost received photostat copies of two letters this past week. One sent to the North Las Vegas City Manager and City Council, requesting some questions he was denied asking the council at last weeks meeting be placed on the agenda on Monday July 13th meeting.

This request was not listed on Monday's agenda, proving once again my statement that the Council has no concern for the Black residents.

The second letter was to the Attorney General requesting an opinion or ruling on the possibility of the West side N.L.V. area withdrawing from the city, since we have no voice in the affairs of the community.

Rev. Walker, author of both letters, charges taxation without representation.

Can you dig it.

Maybe Rev. Walker never heard that you can't beat city hall. The Ghost's been telling you all along that you have to put your money where your mouth is. And a hint to the wise should be enough.

Naugle Files For Board Of Education

Carl Naugle of Las Vegas filed for the State Board of Education today. He is the Industrial Relations Manager of EG&G, an electronics firm at the test site.

Naugle said he is running because he thinks more board members must be elected from Southern Nevada to help solve the "big city" challenges developing in that rapidly growing urban area.

According to Naugle the policy-making Board of Education will be dealing with several new challenges of public education in Nevada: First, and possibly foremost, will be employee bargaining organizations. This will be followed closely by the challenge of meeting the demand for community college services speedily and smoothly; people with children in high school want a program underway promptly. Then there is the matter of general impatience which will require a truly responsive board to meet the needs of students, teachers, taxpayers, and parents.

Naugle is the author of "A Handbook for Montana School Board Members," which he wrote as a graduate student in 1951.

Naugle was appointed a member of the Nevada State Vocational-Technical Education Advisory Council in 1967 and he was recently reappointed for a second term on the council.
