

Department Of Labor RMA Visits CEP

Dr. Edward Aguirre, Department of Labor Regional Manpower Administrator (Region IX), made an official visit to Las Vegas, Thursday (May 20), stopping off for a whirlwind tour of the Economic Opportunity Board's Concentrated Employment Program (CEP) which is funded by the Department of Labor. Here, he is shown with the staff of CEP's Central Record Unit, the department of primary interest to an administrator, headquartered in San Francisco whose responsibility encompasses all Department of Labor funded Manpower programs in California, Nevada, Arizona, Hawaii, the Island of Guam, American Soma, and the Trust Territories of the Pacific...From left, D. C. Lucas, Louise Sheppard, CRU Coordinator; Dr. Edward Aguirre, Ella Hall, Sam Ella McClendon, and Jim Grant.

Weekly Readers Have Influence

The 28 million readers of weekly newspapers are much more influenced by them than by the big dailies, President Richard M. Nixon told a group of editors and publishers convened in Washington, D. C. recently.

"I would not suggest that the great newspapers of the east and west do not have influence," he said, "but I am also aware of the fact that the editorial or column that appears in the hometown weekly or daily is read by more people and has more influence on people."

The occasion was the 10th annual Government Workshop attended by some 160 newspapermen and their wives.

SIXTH EOB DEALERS CLASS GRADUATES

Interest continues in dealers progress -- So assured EOB Deputy Director James Tyree in opening remarks of ceremonies marking the graduation of the sixth dealers class to be trained through an Economic Opportunity Board sponsored program. Only nine of the 18 graduates were present at Friday's ceremonies to hear Deputy Director Tyree assure them that the Economic Opportunity Board members and the EOB staff interest in their progress would continue and that the "facilities of Economic Opportunity Center was available to them wherever and whenever possible." The remaining nine novitiate dealers were unable to attend for the best of all possible reasons -- They were working -- and working on jobs as dealers. Other speakers participating in the day's program shown at head table are (from left) CEP-ES manager, Charles Smith; Mrs. Dorothy King, Chairman, CEP advisory board; North Las Vegas Mayor and EOB member, Gene Echols; Calvin Washington, Supervisor; Dealers Training Staff; and CEP Director, Rev. Leo Johnson.

Dealer graduate Fredrick Washington is congratulated by CEP Advisory Board Chairman, Mrs. Dorothy King as Rev. Leo Johnson, CEP Director, offers the DEOB Dealers certificate of successful completion of the Dealers course. CEP-ES manager, Charles Smith looks on.
