NAB favors lifting TV Blackout When Home Games sold out in Advance

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2 -- The National Association of Broadcaster urged Congress today to lift the television blackout of any at-home game in professional sports when all tickets are sold out in advance.

At the same time, it opposed diverting blacked out home games to pay television or permitting cable television systems from carrying them into blacked out areas via distant signals. NAB's position was outlined by President Vincent T. Wasilewski in testimony before the House Communications Subcommittee which is considering a number of anti-blackout bills. Mr. Wasilewski said the bills are "fully consistent with the long-accepted public interest goal of making broadcast coverage of professional sports available to the greatest number of listeners and viewers."

He said broadcaster recognize the right of professional sports to protect against dilution of their potential gate receipts but feel the blackout of home games should be lifted when al' seats are sold in advance.

SPECIAL NOTICE SENIOR CITIZENS!!

JOHN J. SHEEHAN, Executive Secretary of the Nevada Tax Commission, announced today that the Tax Commission has begun receiving application forms required to be completed by senior citizens to be eligible for real property tax assistance. The last session of the Legislature appropriated 2.4 million dollars to the Nevada Tax Commission to fund the Senior Citizens Property Tax Assistance Act for two years. SHEEHAN stated that instructions and application forms are available in each of the county assessors offices throughout the State. SHEEHAN stated that claims can be obtained from the county assessor's offices or from any of the offices of the Nevada Tax Commission.

The Tax Commission has hired Mr. Doug Cox to administer the Senior Citizens Property Tax Assistance Act under the direct supervision of SHEEHAN. It has been our intention and our goal to make the instructions and application form as short and simple as possible. The questions requiring answers in the application form are of such a nature that all senior citizens should have the information readily available, SHEEHAN said. Eligible senior citizens are reminded by SHEEHAN that the application forms can be filed anytime after the 1st of July and prior to the 4th of September, 1973. The applications will be processed by the Tax Commission in Carson City and refund checks will be delivered to eligible senior citizens sometime before November 1st, 1973. SHEEHAN said he expects to receive about 10,000 applications. SHEEHAN encourages persons to file early so as to facilitate processing of refund checks. SHEEHAN also encourages all people over 65 to file regardless of income or amount of taxes.

Should any questions arise regarding eligibility, persons may obtain information from any of the Tax Gommission offices which are located in Carson City, Reno, Elko and Las Vegas. Toll free calls may be made to Carson City by dialing 800-992-0900 and informing the operator that the party wishes to speak to the

BLACK WOMEN

It is psychologically easier for a black woman to become a professional than for a white woman, according to a study in the August issue of PSYCHOLOGY TODAY magazine.

Contrary to many popular racial stereotypes psychologist Dr. Cynthia Fuchs Epstein said the environment of many black women actually may be more helpful in pursuing a career as lawyer or doctor than the background of white women.

Moreover, she said, the "double discrimination"--against blacks and against women-may work in favor of black women from a psychological standpoint.

She quoted one black woman professional as saying: "From the time you could speak, you were given to understand that your primary interest in life was to get the best education you could, the best job you could. There was no other way."

In white society, Dr. Epstein said, such attitudes are usually reserved for males.

The common phenomenon of the black working mother was another advantage for black women professional. "From early childhood, the women I talked to had the image of women as doer fixed in their minds," she wrote of some 30 black professional interviewed.

Dr. Epstein said she discovered that black women were less likely to fall prey to the "Prince Charming myth"--they do not believe that a man will suddenly materialize to solve the basic problems of living.

"Lacking the usual guarantee that Prince Charming will arrive, equipped with a good profession and a surburban home...the educated black girl prepared herself both subtly and directly to adapt if the American dream should fail," she wrote.

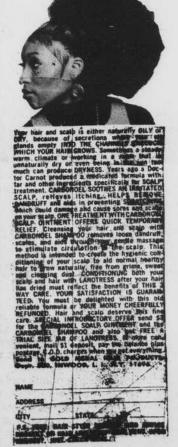

Among Dr. Epstein's other findings:

--"I encountered far less self-hatred among black women than among the white lawyers I interviewed."

--Black women are less likely to abandon their careers or career education once they begin.

--The extended family, more common in black culture than in white, makes child care less of a problem for black women than for whites. Mothers and aunts care for children and the black professional women who are mothers are less anxious about their being absent than are white women.

More than 8 million Blacks aren't registered. Are you part of the problem or part of the solution?
