REBELS REST

The last game the Rebels played, they romped past the University of Nevada, Reno, 126-87 which was the only WCAC game scheduled last week.

The Rebels resume play Thursday, at the Convention Center against Seattle University. On Saturday, they play host to St. Mary's College also at the Convention Center.

Since the Rebels only lead the WCAC by two games over Pepperdine, it must win both games in order to keep sole possession of first place.

However, Pepperdine has a chance to make up that margin Monday night, when they play Loyola University. The Waves are currently in second place, and a win Monday night would move them back to only one game behind UNLV.

Pepperdine has it's work cut out for them in two dangerous road trips, playing Santa Clara Thursday night and USF on Friday. A defeat by Santa Clara or USF, could help the Rebels, and a split either way would give the Rebels a two game lead in the WCAC.

In order for the Rebels to maintain first place, they must win both their games - against Seattle and St. Mary's.

At the present time, the Rebels have several

WCAC STANDINGS

Santa Clara	2	2	.500	2 1/2	8	8	8
Seattle	2	2	.500	2 1/2	4	11	11
Loyola	1	3	.250	3 1/2	8	8	8
UNR	0	5	.000	5	8	9	9

streaks going. Having won 14 consecutive games at home (over two years) tying a school record.

-- 12 consecutive WCAC games at home (over two years).

-- 10 consecutive games in a row (over two years).

-- 6 consecutive games to date.

UNLV has beaten every league opponent they have faced so far this season.

All five Rebel starters are still scoring in double figures with the two reserves R. Smith and B. Batts not far behind. Smith is averaging 8.3 points per game, while Batts is averaging 8.2.

Eddie Owens leads all Rebel scorers with 19.6 points per game followed by R. Sobers with 17.4. L. Brown 13.7, J. Robinson, 13.2 and Glen Gonderzick with a 10.7 clip per game.

The big question is whether the Rebels can come back after a weeks lay-off and continue to win. See you all at the game.

WEST SIDE BASEBALL STARTING

The Westside Athletic Association of Las Vegas announces the organizational meeting for opening of our Baseball League for 1975. The coordination of the League will be guided by S.W. Daniels, WAA President, and Kermit Booker, Jr., WAA member and Athletic Director. They anticipate some very competitive teams this year and hope to have the League well organized to minimize problems that will hinder the smooth operation of League play.

The first meeting of the year in preparation for this baseball league will be held on Friday night, January 31, 1975, at 7:00 p.m. at the WAA Building, 1000 North "D" Street. This meeting is open to all interested adults who wish to sponsor a team or work on the committee for the success of the baseball league. Now is the time to iron out all foreseeable problems and plan a league that will create good sportsmanship and healthy recreation.

This meeting will be planning the teams for boys baseball, ages 8 to 14 years, teen-age girls softball and slow pitch baseball for men. If you have any questions that must be answered prior to this meeting, please call Mr. Booker, 878-1941.

After the rules of operation, for the baseball league, have been completed, all information will be available for public knowledge and support of the baseball and softball program.
