BROWN LESS REBELS WIN TWO

With Big Lewis Brown sitting out the entire game with an injury and three other Rebel starters on the bench, with five fouls late in the game, the Rebels hung on to defeat St. Mary's team 81-75, before a standing room only crowd in the Gael's small gym.

The young Rebels team won it's 10th straight game and upped UNLV's West Coast Athletic Conference mark to 9-0, three games in front of USF, which plays at Santa Clara Saturday. It was the Rebels 14th straight win in WCAC play.

The pressure play of Robert Smith, Glen Gonderzick, and freshman sensation Mike Milke, was enough to stave off an upset-minded St. Mary's team.

With 6:19 remaining in the game, it seemed as if the Rebels had things under control, but with both Ricky Sobers and Eddie Owens sitting on the bench with four personal fouls, the Gaels began to catch up, and were trailing by only five points, 72-67 late in the game.

Harper and Gonderzick traded baskets, making it 74-69, before Harper was fouled by Gonderzick for his fifth personal foul. Harper made both free throws, making the score 74-71.

The Gaels were forced to foul with only 57 seconds remaining in the game sending Mike Milke to the foul line for a one-and-one, Mike made both. St. Mary's fouled Milke again and Milke made one of two, then a field goal with 24 seconds remaining by sophomore Robert Smith, put the game away for good.

UNLV lead the entire second half, after capitalizing on turnovers by St. Mary's.

The Rebels played superb ball filling in for Lewis Brown scoring 10 points and grabbing 4 rebounds.

Jackie Robinson did everything but bring the ball to the game, in scoring 12 points and hauling down 13 rebounds.

After a win over Seattle on Wednesday, and St. Mary's on Friday, the Rebels face USF and Santa Clara next week. However, the Rebels don't return to the Convention Center until February 19th.

All boosters are encouraged to support the Rebels, on it's trip to San Francisco. See you all February 19th, at the Convention Center.
