

"BLACK STARLET'S" JUANITA BROWN IS BUSY HOLLYWOOD ACTRESS

Juanita Brown, the lovely and talented actress who stars in the title role of "Black Starlet," and Omni Pictures Corps., release which opens Wednesday, Feb. 19th at the Rancho Circle Theatre, finds her career zooming at a time when many observers are holding a wake for Hollywood.

With the release of "Black Starlet," Juanita now has five films playing in movie houses across the country -- simultaneously!

In addition to starring in "Black Starlet," Ms. Brown also stars in "Caged Heat," and has top featured roles in "Uptown Saturday Night," "Foxy Brown," and "Willie Dynamite."

Which role is her favorite? She leaves no doubt about it. "Black Starlet," Juanita said emphatically. "It was challenging and a nice departure for me and black pictures in general.

Las Vegas's own THIRD GENERATION STEPS

"THIRD GENERATION STEPS" -- This young, acrobatic dancing group has just finished a one week engagement at the MGM Grand Hotel with Dean Martin. The group will be appearing March 15-20 at the Orange County State Fair in San Bernardino, California. The trio is composed of Terry Criner, Cindy Notz, and Ivory Wheeler. They are products of Las Vegas.

"The role demanded very heavy acting all the way through the picture, she said."

Juanita's stature as an actress has been growing ever since she attended an Actor's workshop just to have something to do. Within two weeks, she was "hooked" on acting. In quick order, she had a photographic composite an agent -- and a professional role, co-starring with Don Murray and Otis Young in "Call Me By My Rightful Name." Elapsed time: four months.

That was in 1972. Now with "Black Starlet," Juanita is a star in every sense of the word.

BUDDY MILES & THE MANHATTANS ON SOUL TRAIN

Columbia recording artist Buddy Miles, will appear on the nationally televised SOUL TRAIN show, March 1st.

Buddy will perform his new single "Put Yourself Together," taken from his latest Columbia album "All

The Faces Of Buddy Miles." He is currently touring the country with his 10 piece band.

Appearing also, will be the Manhattans. The group will perform their hit single "Don't Take Your Love From Me," which has sold over a quarter of a million copies to date.

The Manhattans are currently touring the country doing television radio and newspaper interviews promoting their latest Columbia LP, "That's How Much I Love You."
