

Brenda Mason returns from AGB conference

University Regent Brenda Mason has recently returned from Washington, D.C. where she attended a conference for the National Association of Governing Boards of Colleges and Universities (AGB).

The conference was held April 19 through 22 and had more than 500 participants from 43 states plus the District of Columbia, Guam and Canada.

The AGB holds meetings several times a year for representatives of the governing boards of the nation's institutions of higher learning.

The informal discussion groups which the participants attended discussed such topics as tenure policies, academic collective bargaining and the board's role in long-range planning.

Ms. Mason brought back with her the consensus that governing boards have the responsibility with their administrations to establish and review long-range planning requirements.

She is hopeful that the opportunity for the exchange of ideas and communication made possible by the conference will help to improve the effectiveness of university governing boards across the nation and here in Nevada.

Senior Grand Champion

GRAND CHAMPION -- Sharon Foger was judged as the Clark County 4-H grand champion demonstrator in the senior division. She made a banana cake and shows the finished product that she baked before the contest. Sharon is the daughter of Mrs. Dorothy Foger. Five blue ribbon winners in the junior and senior division will represent Clark County 4-H in the state contest this summer in Reno. The programs of the Nevada Cooperation Extension Service are open to all without regard to race, color or national origin.

UNLV Jazz Session

An afternoon of jazz music will be offered to UNLV Sunday, May 18, with two free concerts on tap.

Hiroshi Suzuki, voted the number one jazz trombonist in Japan for three consecutive years, will appear with his septet at 2 p.m. in the West Lounge of the Student Union Building.

John C. Palmer, guitarist with the orchestra at MGM Grand, will feature his original compositions in a 3 p.m. concert in the Humanities Auditorium.

Suzuki and his group first appeared in concert last spring at UNLV with his own compositions and was praised for his musicianship and talents in contemporary jazz.

The Suzuki band will perform his new composition "Fantasie I, II," an experimental jazz piece.

The group consists of Chuck Foster, trumpet; Rick Caruso, saxophone; Ron Feur, piano; Brent Alverson, bass; Alex Acuna, drums; and Walfredo de los Reyes, percussion.

Palmer's band will include Bob Pierson, trumpet player from the Tropicana; Gueg Bosler, pianist from the Frontier; Bugee Phillips, bass player from the MGM; and Don Williams, drummer from the Rivera.

The Palmer concert will run approximately one hour. Admission is free for both concerts.

Suzuki was born in Yokohama, Japan, and at 16 joined the "Tokyo Cuban Boys" and then "The New Heart" and "The Sharps and Flats." After a tour with Buddy Rich, he decided to remain in the U.S. and chose Las Vegas.

The Suzuki Concert is funded by a grant from the Music Performance Trust Fund.

CVT Gilbert schedules orientation

C.V.T. Gilbert Sixth Grade Center has scheduled orientation sessions for next year's class May 20-23, according to Principal Bill Evans.

Students presently fifth graders will be provided bus transportation to C.V.T. Gilbert to see the plant, meet school personnel, and discuss their program for the following year on the following schedule:

- May 20 - Students from Paul Culley
- May 21 - Students from Ira J. Earl
- May 22 - Students from Mountain View
- May 23 - Students from Bertha Ronzone

Buses will pick up students at their present school for the ride to C.V.T. Gilbert.

Candidates to discuss race relations

A stage play and a panel discussion on race relations will take place May 22 on the campus of the University of Nevada, Las Vegas.

The forum, involving candidates for Mayor and Ward Commissioners in Las Vegas, is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. in the Judy Bayley Theatre.

The event is co-sponsored by the UNLV Sociology Department, the National Conference of Christian and Jews and the Family Counseling Service of Las Vegas.

Illustrating how race problems can undermine a community's educational, employment and housing development, the stage play will be enacted by a group called "Plays for Living." It has been commissioned by the National Family Counseling Association and has been produced throughout the country.

Afterwards, the panel will react to the questions posed in the dramatic piece and answer questions from members of the audience. Panelists will include the victors in Tuesday's primary elections along with UNLV professors Frederick Preston, Thomas Clark and Sheldon Kravitz. Admission is free.

FUTURE ECONOMIST -- Mary Talbert, a secretary with the U. S. Department of Labor's Bureau of Labor Statistics, receives a certificate from Julius Shiskin, commissioner of labor statistics, on completing a 14-week "Upward mobility" program, developed to help employees acquire the necessary training to qualify as economists under the federal civil service standards.
