

Gulf Oil names Black executive

PITTSBURG - May 17, -- Daniel G. Kean has been appointed director-minority Relations for Gulf Oil Corp. He has been director-equal employment opportunity since 1973.

Kean, a native of Louisville, Kentucky, joined Gulf in 1954 as its first Black marketing representative and assisted in the acquisition of more than 70 service stations- many of them operated by Black dealers--in Black communities across the country in the 1950s.

In 1961, he joined the public relations department and helped shape Gulf's minority community relations program in the 1960s.

As administrator of equal opportunity employment in 1970 and then director, Mr. Kean managed the creation and development of Gulf's equal opportunity program, under which the corporation's minority employment has grown from 6.9 percent to 12.6 percent.

In his new post, he will counsel Gulf's management on a broad range of minority matters, including recruiting and employee relations, advertising, purchases from minority businesses and contributions to community activities.

A former championship tennis player, he attended Fisk University in Nashville and holds a B.A. in sociology and a M.S. in mathematics from the University of Michigan-Ann Arbor.

Before joining Gulf he taught at several colleges, including Wiley College in Marshall, Texas, Florida A&M in Tallahassee and Fisk.
