How to keep your Electric Bill down

(No-nonsense tips on energy savings)

There is something you can do about higher power bills. Use less electricity by eliminating waste. We've just completed a new booklet that tells you scores of ways to keep your electric bill down.

Here are some examples:

- This summer, set your air conditioning system's thermostat at 78° instead of 70° or 72°. You'll save about 3% of cooling energy for each degree.
- Set the thermostat on your water heater back to 120° or so instead of the 150° where it probably is now. (Save up to 12% of water heating energy.)

Shading windows, using an attic fan, insulating your attic . . . the booklet deals with these and many more practical (most of them no-cost) methods to cut down on energy use around the home. Get a copy today. Write: "Booklet," Nevada Power Company, Box 230, Las Vegas 89151. Or pick one up at any of our offices. Or phone 385-5811.

If you'd like to get a group of friends and neighbors together (perhaps a civic or social organization you belong to) we'll be glad to have one of our energy conservation specialists address the gathering and answer any questions you may have. Drop us a note, or call 385-5753.

Meanwhile, please make conservation a habit. Electricity costs too much to waste any longer.

FREE IMMUNIZATION

For Week of August 4

The District Health Department has scheduled free well child examinations and free immunization clinics for Clark County families.

Well child exams are only available by appointment for children up to four years old at St. Timothy's Episcopal Church at 42 Pacific Avenue in Henderson from 8 a.m. to noon Wednesday and at the Teen Center in Boulder City from 10 a.m. to 3:30 Thursday.

The public health nurse will check the children for normal growth and development and make referrals if any abnormalities are observed.

Call the Health Department to make an appointment.

Free immunizations to protect against polio, measles and diphtheria are available to children from two months to 21 years old at the Teen Center in Boulder City from 10 a.m. to 3:30 Thursday, and at the Boys Club at 2530 E. Carey in North Las Vegas from 9 a.m. to noon.

Call the Health Department for further information.

CETA Program Helps Unemployed

Unemployed and underemployed residents of Clark County can use the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act (CETA) program "as a gateway to meaningful jobs and adequate wages," CETA Affirmative Action Officer Rudy Navarro said recently.

Navarro said Clark County's CETA program is for all residents who meet its guidelines, regardless of race, creed, color, sex, or national origin. He said CETA's objective is economic self-sufficiency for the disadvantaged--particularly Vietnam and other veterans, handicapped persons, youth and senior citizens, recipients of public assistance and persons who speak little or no English.

"Problems with the English language won't keep Spanish-speaking persons out of CETA," Navarro added. He said bi-lingual CETA staffers are provided to answer queries about the program and work with CETA participants.

Las Vegas and North Las Vegas residents interested in the program should check with the CETA sub-contractor for manpower service at 900 W. Owens Ave. CETA information also is available in Henderson in room 30 of the Henderson Civic Center, 200 Water St.

Navarro said CETA participants are helped in many ways before they ever report for the first day on the job.

He said each enrollee's vocational needs are studied and job counseling is provided. Barriers to employment also are analyzed. If medical, dental, legal, child care or transportation problems are handicapping the enrollee in the job market, CETA provides assistance in these areas, too.

Finally, job developers, working with local employers, find jobs for the now work-ready enrollees. And follow-ups on each placement help insure maximum satisfaction for both employers and employees, Navarro said.
