"NATE THE SKATE" and $1,000,000 Free at the Gate --Nate "The Skate" Archibald #19 above, one of the shortest but also one of the highest-paid pro basketball players at $400,000-a-year, and his National Basketball Association teammates on the Lord Calvert Superstars play for free in the summer in the Robert Douglas Community Basketball League in New York. Their talents add up to about $1,000,000 in annual salaries but they play without compensation for community residents in Harlem and Queens. Lord Calvert teammates (not in the photo) include Earl Monroe, New York Knicks' all-star; Larry

HIGH SCHOOL SPORTS TO BE BROADCASTED THIS YEAR

KTRI Country Radio (formerly KVEG-FM) announced today that it will direct its sport coverage to Clark County High Schools.

KTRI will cover the football, basketball and baseball regular season plus all tournament games. This will mark the first time in years that a radio station has carried the full season sports of local high schools.

These broadcasts are possible, according to KTRI General Manager, Bob Ruark, because of the support of their sport boosters whose advertising will be carried in the games free of charge.

KTRI is also considering the broadcast of girl's basketball this fall.

KTRI broadcasts on 92.3 FM for all you sport fans.
