'To Be Young, Gifted And Black' Repeats

A special television adaptation of the popular play, "Lorraine Hansberry: To Be Young, Gifted and Black" will air on Theatre in America Wednesday, September 3 at 9 p.m. on TV-10.

The play, which depicts the life and works of the late black playwright Lorraine Hansberry, and stars Ruby Dee as Miss Hansberry, Al Freeman, Jr., Claudia McNeil, Barbara Barrie, Lauen Jones, Roy Scheider and Blythe Danner in the cast.

The creator of the production is Miss Hansberry's husband, Robert Nemiroff.

Miss Hansberry, who died of cancer in 1965, was the youngest American and the first black to win the New York Drama Critics Circle Award. She received the honor in 1959 for the play, "A Raisin in the Sun."

"To Be Young, Gifted and Black," woven together from the playwright's diaries and letters and from portions of her work, probes Miss Hansberry's experiences as a black artist in American. The television adaptation includes many scenes shot on location in the South and in the streets of Harlem.
