encouraging Bob Bailey to run against Senator Neal. Bennett is and has been chairman of NEDCO the small business packing firm run by Bob Bailey. Bennett gave Bob Bailey leave of absent from his $24,500 government subsidized job to run against the Senator.

Dunn and Bennett are both ministers. It is the Voice's position that we should change preachers in the Legislature. We call for the election of Albert Dunn in District 6. He has principles which are worthy of his election. We don't feel Dunn will betray our trust, as has been done with others.

Bennett, on the other hand, has become so controlled by vested interests as those mentioned above that he can not effectively represent us. We have not heard of any case where Bennett in recent years since his election used that office to the benefit of Black people as we have heard of Senator Neal. It is our belief that Dunn would effectively represent our interest in the Legislature.

Loni Chaney does not have any real feeling for the political question and our representation is diluted by his presence in the legislature. By not knowing, Chaney is subject to control by those who's vested interest is paramount, such as the case of Rev. Bennett.

The people in District 7, made a mistake in electing Loni Chaney. It is not too often that you get an opportunity to correct a mistake. Therefore, the Voice calls upon the people to return Cranford Crawford to the assembly.

As we have reported in the past, Crawford possessed the qualifications to make us a good law maker. He has the education background and the experience to get the job done for us.

A single individual attempting to enforce his or her employment rights is faced with a bewildering complexity of bureaucratic red tape. Employment law suits can take over five years and cost hundreds of thousands of dollars. The courts offer an uncertain remedy for the individual and the Federal government has shown that it's effect is certain - a whitewash!

JET believes that unity will provide the power base to confront the large corporate employers on equal terms. The organizational meeting was held at the Westside Library and the faces were mostly Black with a scattering of Chicanos, Latinos and white women, but the realization was that together women and minorities - all those excluded from the white male positions of power - make up a new majority. United, organized, and with the force of law as fuel, JET is taking off.

At it's second meeting on August 30, JET chose it's name and formed a temporary governing council composed of Black, Chicanos, Latinos, and women. Committees were formed to collect discrimination complaints and to prepare a membership drive.

Members have pledged to pay $5 per month voluntary dues because they recognize that the money paid to present unions is being used only to keep them in their place and that money as well as commitment and energy is needed to make a dent in the rock that is the pattern of employment in Vegas.

Already the establishment has reacted with letters and conciliatory phone calls to JET's new officials. 100 people are enough to worry the Hilton Hotel but JET recognizes that more will be needed to effect change in the whole industry.

JET spokespersons stated that the organization needs members from every private business and government agency in town; members who are willing to confront the racist/sexist power structure and who can provide information about discriminatory practices that Vegas employers hide under red velvet and tokenism. Information about meeting times and membership can be obtained by calling 648-0012.

Elect JOSEPH "JOE" ABRAHAMS

County

Commissioner

Seat "F"

DEMOCRAT

When was the last time you had a true representative of the people in county government?

Joseph H. Abrahams

will be that representative .

A 42 year resident who is a qualified, concerned citizen, parent and businessman who will represent all the people, all the time.

Joseph H. Abrahams feels the county needs...

Better Police Protection

thru revaluation of existing priorities and additional personnel if necessary.

Reduction Of Our High Crime Rate

thru elimination of the tremendous backlog of criminal cases in our court system. One possibility would be the creation of a night court to handle traffic and small claims actions.

Sounder Fiscal Policy

a close look at county spending, which should be based on need and necessity. Termination of all high cost out-of-town studies and surveys.

Open Public Meetings

No unannounced or closed meetings. The commission serves the public and all actions taken should be open to the residents of Clark County.

Consistency in County Government adhering to our county master plan. Denial of spot zoning that does not conform with the county's overall master plan.
