The Roll of the Black Church in the Community

That will be the topic of discussion on Wednesday, December 1, at the West Las Vegas Library. The program is the final in the series ON THE BLACK SIDE: issues and views from the West Las Vegas community.

Reverend Sam Roberson of the Greater New Jerusalem Baptist Church will be the guest speaker.

Panel members will include Ruth Turner, Larry Powell, Leon Smith and Amos Muhammed. All of the participants are active in the church and also in other community activities.

The moderator for the program will be Ray Willis.

The program has been made possible through a grant from the Nevada Humanities Committee, a state affiliate of the National Endowment for the Humanities. Bessie Braggs is the project director.

HOLIDAY GROANINGS

When you think about the Holidays your thoughts are likely to turn to parties and lots of good food and drink. You may have happy memories of last year's groaning board and hopefully you weren't the one who was left groaning.

Overindulgences in drinking, eating and smoking can result in swallowing an excessive amount of air, and according to medical researchers, air swallowing is the chief cause of gastrointestinal gas, bloating and cramps. A tablet called Phazyme, which contains simethicone and digestive enzymes, is recommended by many physicians to relieve symptoms of gaseousness.

However, for a happier holiday this year, good preventive "medicine" is to avoid over-indulgences and to take a relaxed approach to partying and holiday preparations. The medical researchers have also found that stress and tension can also be a contributing factor to gastrointestinal gas and its distressing symptoms.
