people in our society have always had access to better health care and all that that implies. The poor and disadvantaged somehow were doomed to repeat the cycle of poverty in each generation because important choices about what would improve their quality of life were denied them.

The idea that only those with middle class and above incomes should have the access to and the right to control the size of one's family is as repugnant as any of the oppressive Jim Crow laws that we have experienced in our history in America.

We salute PPFA for fighting so hard over the years to make safe, voluntary birth control services available including contraception, abortion, sterilization, fertility and genetic counseling, without regard to age, marital status, place of residence, race, cultural differences or economic circumstance.

You have taught us well to beware of false prophets among us who would deny us the fundamental right to reproductive freedom.
