

NEVADA BLACK BUSINESS ASSOCIATION HOSTS ORIENTATION/REGISTRATION SESSION OF WCCEDP BUSINESS MANAGEMENT WORKSHOP SERIES AT "D" STREET LIBRARY

Adding a new dimension to a unique community library concept, Thursday evenings at the "D" Street Library promise to be a stimulating and rewarding experience for participants in the scheduled Business Management Workshop Series. The series is a demonstration project of the Westside Community Comprehensive Economic Development Plan.

Hosting the first of ten planned sessions, the Nevada Black Business Association aided in attracting over forty participants to an Orientation/Registration Session, Thursday, April 21, 1977. The session was conducted by Maudra Jones, Training Specialist assigned to the project.

Prominent members of the Las Vegas business and academic communities joined workshop participants in an informal business setting, designed to establish group relationships, initiate planning for specific individual needs of participants, and facilitate the assessment of past and planned business experiences and the implications for setting realistic goals for business success.

Among Trainer/Consultant Volunteers, of the workshop team present were: Bill Bender, Deputy Director, State of Nevada Department of Economic Development; Dr. Betty Yannitz, Director, Center for Business and Economic Research; Dr. John E. Nixon, Department of Management, University of Nevada in Las Vegas; Boyd C. Bulloch, President, Bulloch Enterprises, Inc., Gregory Ashby, C.P.A., J.K. Lasser, International Accountants; and Earl Lord, Training Coordinator, Small Business Administration. Other members of the team, not present, include: Bob Bailey, Executive Director, Nevada Economic Development Company; Susan Ford, Publicist, Southwest Advertising; Charles Kellar, Esq., local attorney; and Lew Farr, Director, Job Incentive Bureau, New York State Department of Commerce.

The Nevada Black Business Association, composed of business owners in West and North Las Vegas, was organized in April, 1976. NBBA president, Woodrow Wilson views the workshop series as "a timely and fitting vehicle for effecting meaningful involvement of association members in the process for enhancing the economic vitality and stability of these communities."

Out-of-town visitors, who participated in the Orientation/Registration Session were: Dr. Richard T. Mullins, Director, Minority Engineering Effort, Inc., New York City and Bill Armstrong of Glendill Construction, Los Angeles, California.
