ASAEL I. ROBISON --- NEWLY ELECTED
CHAIRMAN OF CLARK COUNTY REPUBLICAN PARTY.

Asael I. Robison, a third generation Nevadan from Moapa Valley has been elected chairman of the Clark County Republican Party. Robison, an outspoken proponent of a strong two party system, won a narrow victory over party veteran Jane Ham in the recent election. Mr. Ham will continue in her post as second vice-chairman of the Clark GOP.

Robison, a Las Vegas businessman, is the son of Dell H. Robison, former long-time Clark County School Trustee. He succeeds George Stewart as county chairman.

Vowing to unify and strengthen the party, Robison told Central Committee members after his election that, "We must lay aside our differences and work together to rebuild the party from the ground up. We must put together a program that makes sense. We must strengthen our precinct organization, and we must do it with a strong, intelligent approach," said Robison. "We can't expect to consistently and successfully elect governors and senators and congressmen unless we have Republicans sitting in local offices and in the legislature," Robison said further. Robison emphasized that Republicans have a responsibility to provide a viable political alternative for the people of Clark County.

Robison is a product of Moapa Valley schools and is a 1970 graduate of the University of Nevada, Las Vegas, where he majored in history and government. He later attended McGeorge Law School in California.

He will serve until the GOP county convention next year when he intends to run for reelection.
