LENA HORNE - VIC DAMONE OPEN AT CEASARS

In the widely-praised television special 'America Salutes Richard Rogers,' the musical highlight came when three of the most gifted singers in American popular music, Lena Horne, Vic Damone and Peggy Lee, blended their voices for a medley of songs by the great composer. Critics hailed this once-in-a-lifetime meeting as one of television's brightest musical moments.

Two of these three legendary singers, Lena Horne and Vic Damone, will re-create that magic when they open at Caesars Palace for a one-week engagement.

Miss Horne is no less elegant, no less charismatic than she was an era ago when she sang songs like 'Storm y Weather' and 'I Concentrate On You' and captivated a nation of music lovers. She is the consummate cafe performer, infusing her songs with a subtle energy that radiates through her audience.

Like Miss Horne, Damone has enjoyed success in every entertainment medium, from recordings to the splashy MGM musicals. He is revered by other singers as having one of the truly beautiful voices in popular music. The quality of his vocal instrument is matched by the meticulous way in which he caresses a lyric.
