

Library Notes

by Bill Ludwig

On Sunday morning and throughout the day, the population of the Westside swells to double or triple its usual numbers. For Sunday is the day of worship, and no matter where you live or what you do, Sunday is the day to join together in fellowship, at the Church of your choice.

We at the library know the importance of religion to you, our patrons, and we thought you might be interested in a few of the new books we have just received. The following is just a selection of the many books available.

THE CHRISTIANS by Bamber Gascoigne

It's a big, beautiful, remarkable book on the story of the most influential religious movements in man's history - Christianity. No other work I have ever seen captures all the magnificence and the trials of 20 centuries of world-wide involvement left by the legacy of Jesus Christ. Lavishly illustrated and sensitively written, this is a book that should become the basis for a quality series for PBS television in the manner of "civilization."

THE DEBATE ABOUT THE BIBLE by Stephen Davis

Is the Bible ever in error? If you have ever asked yourself that question or allowed that doubt to enter your mind, and still consider yourself an Evangelical Christian, then the book will help you toward a personal answer through an understanding of the author's belief in infallibility.

DARK SALVATION by Harry Richardson

Methodism was founded and grew in the period of slavery, and its history is closely tied to the development of religion among Blacks in America. This is the story of that religious movement and its separations into two major churches. It is also the newly told story of the Black experience in America, from its African origins to the present day.

OUTSTANDING BLACK SERMONS J. Alfred Smith, Editor

BLACK PREACHING Robert Mewbold Jr., Editor

One of the popular books of the library for the ministers of the community has been BEST BLACK SERMONS. Because of the widespread interest, the publisher has just released a second volume of sermons, called OUTSTANDING BLACK SERMONS. Equally as strong, as eloquent, as uniquely Black, as the first. And with it comes a new collection of Presbyterian sermons under the title BLACK PREACHING. Both volumes should enrich the sources and inspire the message of Christianity in the Black community.

RECYCLE CATALOGUE II

In the early 70's a new style book was born with the publication of THE WHOLE EARTH CATALOG, and dozens of catalogs have followed in its success. Now, at last, a catalog for Christians has been published. Subtitled THE FABULOUS FLEA MARKET, instead of a catalog, it is more like a storehouse of ideas and games and creative tools for teaching or learning Christianity. Anyone involved in the process of communicating spiritual belief to others, at home or in the Church can look forward to hours of delight and inspiration in the pages of this book.

THE BLACK COMMUNITY NEWSPAPER

Rev. Roy L. Wilson, along with Rev. Davis Wallage, the proud Pastors of the Community College Baptist Church, on the corner of Cheyenne and Pecos, and the members, cordially invite you to come out and worship with us. Because God's way is love, we look to the hills from which come our help. Our help comes from the Lord who made Heaven and Earth.

Sunday School 9:45; Midday Service 11:00 A.M. until ?

Come all ye that labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest.

Rev. Roy L. Wilson

UNLV Seminar

Would you like to improve your personal and professional effectiveness in dealing with people?

A one-day seminar March 17 on the "Six Conditions of Human and Organizational Effectiveness" will be offered for those who desire to better their human relations skills.

The program, open to all local residents, is being co-sponsored by the Division of Continuing Education at the University of Nevada, Las Vegas and the Clark County Dental Society. Dr. Stephen R. Covey, associate professor of organizational behavior and business management at Brigham Young University, will be the instructor.

Topics to be discussed include how to get others to be self-motivated basic principles of effective communication, creating a team-work spirit in an office and principles and processes of self-development.

Covey, a management and organizational development consultant and human relations lecturer, is also the author of the books "Spiritual Roots of Human Relations" and "How to Succeed with People."

For further information or registration, contact the Division of Continuing Education, UNLV.

V.I.P. Corner

by Kenneth Carson

Hello VOICE Readers:

I humbly apologize to Mrs. Hughes, of Hughes Liquor Store, by erroneously stating that J. Oliver was part owner of her store. He is NOT a part owner.

By the time you read this column, we should have The Game Room under our new ownership. We do have mature guidance and wish to thank the parents that have come over and would appreciate any help from other parents. You are welcome to visit our Game Room any time. We're open during school days 2-10 P.M. and weekends 10 A.M. - 12 Midnight, unless there is a special event. We do need Fathers and Mothers to help. The place was without supervision, but its going to take a little time to buildup. This can be accomplished with the help of each other. We CAN do it.

I am going to try and close the gap between youth and adults that I have been talking about. We are setting up boys/girls teams -- dance -- drill -- and acting teams. Will be having bake sales, car washes, and other fund raisers. There are many ways you can help us help your children. We have new ideas and plans. We're going to develop culture in this area.

I went to a few people, years ago, telling them what I wanted to set up for the children. All they said was; "That will take years and we don't have years. It will also take a lot of money." I know we can do it if we stick together.

What I need most is parent concern for their children, and support from those same parents. We need to let our children know they have the ability to be what they want. We say porter and maid work is good enough for us, why not for our children? I know we have worked for our children so they can have it better than we did by working for these achievements. We want our children to chose their future. I have worked in foundries -- factories -- hotels, but I want our children to manage or own these businesses someday. Only we can prepare them.

Parents please support and help your children, and our plans for them for the future.
