

AL BROWN
Human Relations,
Coordinator
736-5480

Jo Mackey Sixth Grade Center

THEY ARE PHYSICALLY FIT! - Jo Mackey Sixth Grade Center physical education instructor Joe Lobel (right) has just made one student very happy, by presenting her with a President's Physical Fitness Award. A number of the other students so honored are seen in the background. In order to get the award, students had to achieve 85 percent on a national test. Pictured (left) with Lobel, is student Cathy Leose.

Eldorado High

ELDORADO HIGH SCHOOL RETREAT - Student body officers and Student Council members of Eldorado High School met for a retreat at the Mt. Potosi Boy Scout Camp to plan activities for the 1977-1978 year. Here (from left to right), Vice President, Patty Dubro; Secretary, Twila West; and President, Shawn Cardinal go over notes from a just completed session.

The EHS Soul Club held a Food Drive for the week of Nov. 7-19. All the classes participated in the drive, supplying 1472 cans of food for needy families. The Soul Club members are as follows from left to right: Tammy Bass, Glenda Shepherd, Shirley Johnson, Linda Prin, Marshal Densley, Lidia Martin, Bridget Moten, Christina Stallworth, Marnita Anderson. Bottom row Left to Right: Vivian Bass and Carolyn Ashley.

School District Human Relations Office Community News

Rancho High

OUTSTANDING STUDENT - Top Rancho High School vocational student Sally Gillitzer accepts award from principal Mario Monaco (right) as her teacher Nita Redingler (left) looks on. Sally received the state award because of her outstanding performance in Home Economics and Business classes.

C.V.T. GILBERT
6TH GRADE CENTER

STUDENT ART - Students at C.V.T. Gilbert Sixth Grade Center make sure their macrame has been properly weaved. From left to right: Daniel Fear, Kevin Owen, Brian Wojtowicz and Gloria Brown. These student's work will be exhibited at the Southern Nevada Youth Fair at the Convention Center, April 20-23.

McCall Sixth Grade Center

READING AWARENESS - Title I students at Quannah McCall Sixth Grade Center enjoy a discussion on "Reading in Occupations," with Betty Hanson, public relations specialist from the Central Telephone Company.

Red Rock Elementary

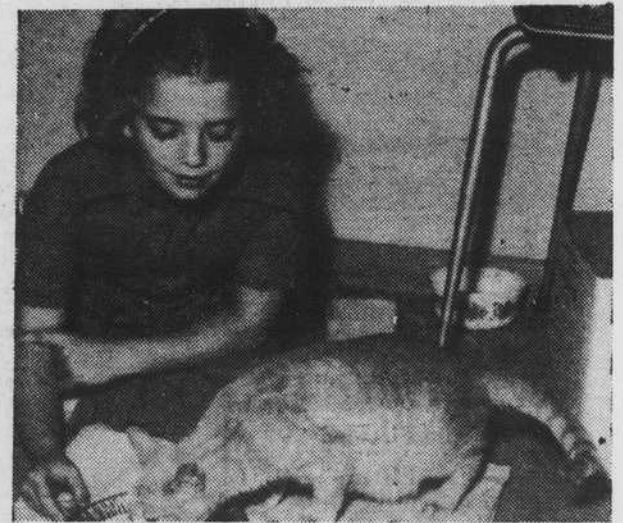

TRAVELING ART SHOW - "I like this one better!" says Vicki Shelton (left) to fellow Red Rock Elementary School students Steven Pong, John Breen and Ronnie Bailey. Paintings being observed by the students are from Bertha Ronzone Elementary School, and are part of a traveling art show sponsored by the Clark County Art Association.

Culley Elementary

It looked like a typical, very ordinary house cat; the one that walked into room #35 at Paul Culley Elementary School. It wasn't until after the class had settled down to do some reading that someone noticed the cat had birthed one kitten and was in the process of delivering a second.

The first kitten was born dead, but the class was overjoyed with the discovery that the second kitten had survived. Needless to say, that kitten, along with its mother, became the center of attention for the students in room #35, and in short order, they became known to the entire school.

The mother cat was named Paula by the students, while baby kitten remains nameless until she grows big enough, and strong enough to be adopted by a family and move into a more permanent home.

CAT VISITS SCHOOL - Paul Culley Elementary School student Toni Melton gives Paula a bowl of milk as baby kitten takes a nap.

Dearing Elementary

SKILLED CRAFTSMEN OF THE FUTURE? Students at Laura Dearing Elementary School prepare for upcoming art shows. From left to right: DeeDee Purvis, Alton Brumfield and Joey McNalley. Their work will be displayed in the Chaparral Zone exhibit April 3-7 and in the Clark County School District Art Exhibit at the Convention Center April 19-23.

