Assemblyman Bennett Seeks Re-Election

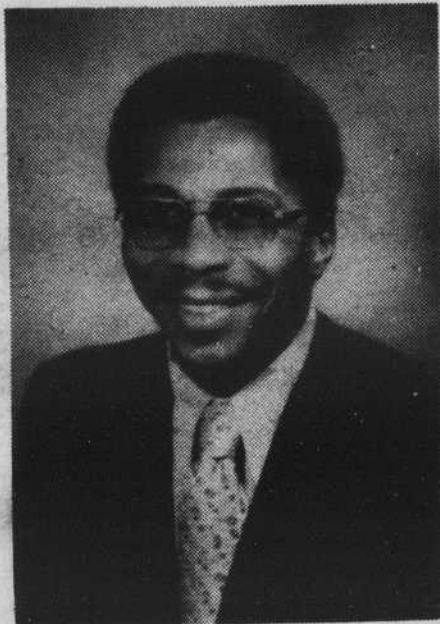

Assemblyman Marion Bennett, a three-term member of the Nevada legislature, announced today he will seek reelection as representative of Assembly District 6.

Bennett, the pastor of Zion United Methodist Church since 1960, was chairman of the Special Committee on Tourism and Economic Development during the 1977 legislature. He served as chairman of the Assembly Committee on Health and Welfare in 1973 and 1975. He was vice chairman of that committee in 1977 and a member of the Labor and Management Committee and Legislative Functions Committee.

Bennett said his priorities for the 1979 session would be legislation to assist senior citizens with utility bills, reduction of property taxes, more funds for preventive programs dealing with drug abuse and mandatory insurance coverage for treatment of alcohol and drug abuse.

He successfully worked for a landlord-tenant bill and day care centers for low income working mothers during past sessions of the legislature, as well as reform and updating of criminal laws, gaming legislation defining privileged gaming licenses and funds for increased economic development.

Constable Lou Tabat of North Las Vegas township has announced his intention to run for the Constable's Office again.

The very popular Constable has added several innovations and "firsts" in the Constable's Department since being elected. All of the Deputies, including Tabat, have attended the Police Academy School and have been going to UNLV Seminars on Law Enforcement. Thus far they have received 5 College Credits. Constable Tabat was the first to have all Deputies go to "hand gun" school and put in time on the firing range. Tabat was the first Constable to have his working Deputies in uniform.

His organization of the Constable's Office now includes a 28 horse mounted posse for the purpose of Search and Rescue . . . and to support the Community as well as the County, when needed.

One of Mr. Tabat's first ideas . . . when sworn into office . . . was to have a 32 foot flagpole and flag installed at the North Las Vegas Justice Court. It had previously been overlooked and Constable Tabat accomplished the project at no cost to the County.

Constable Tabat spends a great deal of his own time in the field of boxing . . . and his name has been brought into National and In-
