WAR

This weekend Soul Train fuses the rock and jazz sounds of War with the mellow, soulful tones of Eloise Laws.

War, whose professional talents have won them world wide acclaim, perform "Galaxy" from their current album, "Galaxy," "L.A. Sunshine" and "Junkie To My Music."

These gold and platinum award winners hold the distinction of having their 1975 hit, "Why Can't We Be Friends," beamed into outer space during the historic link-up of U.S. Astronauts and Russian comonaunts. They also are the first recording group to achieve gold certification on the Blue Note label for "Platinum Jazz."

Sister of jazz greats Hubert and Ronnie Laws, Eloise Laws carries on the family tradition of musical excellence with her rendition of "Number One" and "Baby You Lied."

She also contributed backup vocals on Ronnie Laws' latest album, "Friends and Strangers." To return the favor, he plays saxophone on two cuts on "Eloise," her second album release, written and co-produced by Linda Creed, a gold and platinum-winning songwriter.

Soul Train, hosted and produced by Don Cornelius, is sponsored by Johnson Products Co., Inc. of Chicago.
