SPINKS-ALI--THE BIG ONE

The Spinks-Ali rematch for the World's Heavyweight Championship is one of the thought provoking confrontations in boxing history. The confrontation between the latest and the greatest is more than jingles and rhyme. It poses a very real and very serious question.

Can Ali, even in the best of condition, defeat the young, rugged, determined Spinks?

That compelling question makes the bout, to be held at the Superdome in New Orleans on Friday, September 15, one of the most talked about encounters in the annals of boxing history.

Ali, the twice crowned world's champion, is determined to be the first man ever to win the coveted crown three times. He promises a "September to remember."

Spinks, the ex-Marine who won a gold medal in the Montreal Olympics, suprised the world but didn't surprise himself. He promises to defeat Ali convincingly "for the whole world to see and believe."

The two gladiators are already assured of settling the score before the highest paying live gate boxing history. The gross or the live gate surpassed the $2.7 million gross of the second Dempsey-Tunney fight, the previous high, in early July.

The gate is heading towards boxing's first and perhaps only over $6 million gate ever. The fight is truly--THE BIG ONE.
