STRIDE REGIONAL CONFERENCE

Service training and research in desegregated education, conference, was held recently in Scottsdale Arizona. The conference was attended by Al Brown, Human Relation Coordinator, Boochie Carter, Elida Hernandez, and Randi Ferrell, James Cox, Attendance Officer CCSD, also attended the conference.

STRIDE'S Theme Desegregation/Integration: Made to ideas clear (1) That schools, in order to Desegrate/Integrate, must have the active sustained support of the community they serve. Some of the main topics discussed were.

1. Equalizing Educational opportunity through school Administration.
2. Promoting student participation and Equalizing Disciplinary Procedures.
3. Locating and using multicultural instructional materials.

Great progress has ocured, yet many of our schools in the West are not yet meeting acceptable standards for desegregation nor achieving the goals of integration, was stressed at the conference.

A 5th grade class at Edwards Elementary School was chosen to pilot a five-week Fire Safety Program developed by fireman Dave Helton of the Las Vegas Fire Department.

Students learned basic fire safety facts and rules, how to design a fire escape plan, the chemistry of fire, use of fire extinguishers and holiday fire safety.

Each child was required to formulate a home fire escape plan, conduct a home fire hazard inspection and design a fire safety poster. The successful completion of these projects qualified the students to become Junior Fire Marshals.

Certificates were awarded by the Fire Chief on April 20.

Sharon Grande's 5th grade class learns the proper use of fire extinguishers from fireman Dave Helton. The Edwards Elementary School students participated in a five-week Fire Safety Program developed by Helton and were awarded Junior Fire Marshal certificates upon successful completion.
