Western wear, once considered (by many) the poorest taste in clothing is fast becoming the popular fashion wear seen on the streets of cities all across the country.

Tequila's classical beige and royal plum cowboy shirts are shown here over Jeans by Jordache and Gloria Vanderbilt's fun time beige denim jeans. Jody's of California offers this real polyester/cotton dress with gathered back and tie belted for easy wear and comfort.

Of course, western wear just isn't complete without a cowboy hat. Add that finishing touch with a tan straw cowboy hat. You can change the look of the hat by changing the regular band with a braided band, or ribbon; or try a crocheted cap with the braided fringes under your ten gallon hat for that 12 look.

Hats are located at Fashion Gal of Las Vegas and fashions provided by Virgie of Ambrosia Boutique.
