Broadbent Seeks Return as County Commissioner

Clark County Commissioner Robert Broadbent, who represents Henderson, Boulder City, and the Moapa Valley region, said Thursday he will seek re-election to the county commission.

The incumbent has served for 18 years as a member of the Las Vegas Convention & Visitors Authority as well as the board that formed both the Clark County Health District and the Regional Transportation Commission.

He also chaired the Broadbent is particularly proud of his accomplishments on behalf of the smaller cities and outlying areas in Clark County. Most recently he helped acquire $3.5 million for capital improvements in Henderson, Boulder City and elsewhere.

committee that drafted the charter for Boulder City and was subsequently elected its first mayor.

A pharmacist by profession, Broadbent is past president of the Nevada Pharmaceutical Association, past president of the Nevada Association of Counties and a former vice president of the Nevada League of Cities. He also serves on the Eagle Review Board for the Boy Scouts of America.

A native Nevadan, Broadbent and his wife Sue have lived in Boulder City for 30 years. They have four children ranging in age from 11 to 26.
