The wicked desireth the net of evil men: but the root of the righteous yieldeth fruit. The wicked is snared by the transgression of his lips: but the just shall come out of trouble.

Madison Sixth Grade Center, is one of seven (7) within the Clark County School District. Student enrollment for the 1980-81 school is approximately 700. Five new teachers join the staff, and Assist. Principal, Lonnie Richardson. Helen Anderson (we are all delighted to have her) is our new Speech Therapist. Thus Madison becomes one of the neatest schools in the district, sites Jackie Mcghee, who is a six grader, coming to Madison from Halle Hewetson.

Elaine Banks Ajayi joins the staff, arriving in Las Vegas, in August from Memphis, Tennessee Owen College, in Memphis, Ajayi in Memphis. Ajayi states it is pleasure to be on the staff at Madison. The staff has been very helpful, friendly and receptive. She enjoys most her students, and finds it exciting getting to know each of them.

Shelia Harrell, a resource teacher in her second year at Madison, is looking forward to a good year. Martha Layfayette is in the Art Department, a second year with the district. Ms. Joyce and Mrs. Peterson will be sponsors for the Human Relations Commission this year. Last year Leonard Zarndt sponsored the Commission, did an outstanding job, gained the respect of all the Human Relations Commission members. By his effort and the Commission's, Madison was No. 1 among Clark County schools in the Thanksgiving Food Drive Competition.

James Shipp, the Principal, is excited and is looking forward to a good year and his goal for the 1980-81 school year can be accomplished with all at Madison working together as a team. Hats off this week to MADISON SIXTH GRADE CENTER.

They Need Twice As Much

Black Colleges Seek Funds

Atlanta — Black colleges could get 2½ times the amount of federal funds they now receive each year, according to civil rights leader Jesse Jackson.

Blacks made up at least 10 percent of the American population and their colleges are entitled to at least 10 percent of the federal higher education budget, said Jackson, who spoke Monday at a meeting in Atlanta attended by 60 black college presidents. The educators met to discuss ways to obtain more federal money.

Black colleges currently receive about $400 million of the funds — not including research grants — given to colleges and universities by federal agencies each year, Jackson said, adding that he believed the schools should receive

$1 billion. Black colleges got 4.9 percent of the federal higher education budget in 1978, 4.4 percent in 1979 and 4.1 percent in 1980, Jackson said.
