

FALL—INTO TODAY'S CAREER

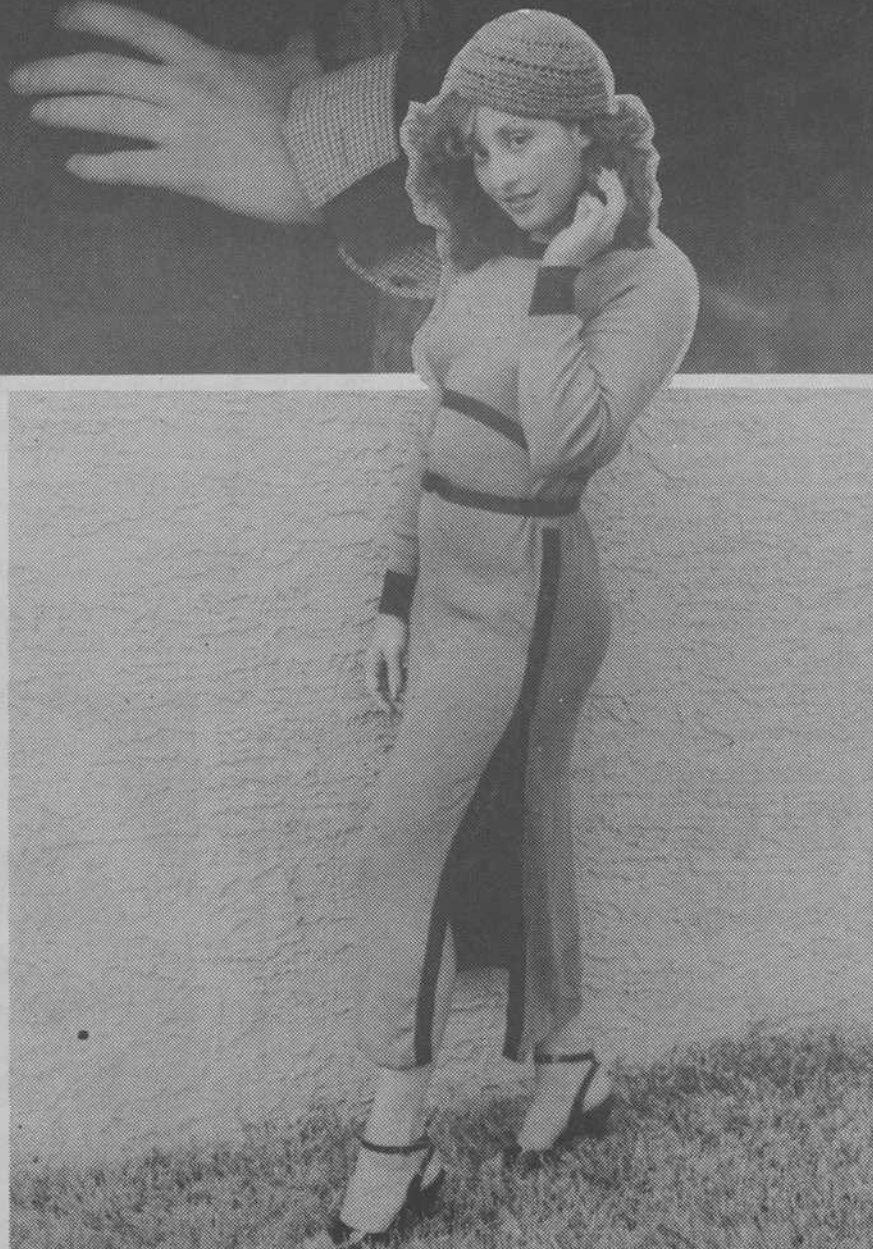

She's young in spirit, she's energetic, confident, and on the move. She's today's Career Woman.

Many women have decided to enter into career fields unheard of for a woman 15 years ago, career fields requiring a great deal of responsibility.

Efficient and functional garments that offer grace, yet are feminine (not to mention quality and value), are a must in her world.

Here, we have selected clothing that go with her today's life style.

All of the fashions shown here are on sale at Fashion Gal, starting September 15. Be sure to stop by and say hello to Chris.

Photographed by John S. Riley

Fashion Editor Lei Stroughter