

JULIA B. PURNELL

Julia B. Purnell, national president of Links, Inc. will be in Las Vegas November 8 to conduct a workshop for the local Links chapter. Mrs. Purnell is a professor of education of Southern University in Baton Rouge, Louisiana. An extensive list of her credits and accomplishments include being listed in Ebony magazine as one of the 100 Most Influential Black Americans for 1979-80.

The workshop will be geared toward detailing events and activities for the 1982 national Links convention. Over 4,000 members of the organization are expected to attend the convention, scheduled to be held at the Las Vegas Hilton Hotel.

Founded in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania in 1946 Links, Inc. is currently a nationwide organization with one hundred and sixty chapters branched throughout thirty-three states. Links is a professional organization of Black women involved in community service programs. Local Links officers include Bobbi Troutman president and Maggie Pearson, vice president.

Black Entertainers Needed

Open auditions for the all black musical "Don't Bother Me, I Can't Cope," will be held at the Clark County Community College Little Theatre on November 6, from 7-10 p.m. and Saturday, November 8, from 8 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Auditions are open to singers, actors and dancers. Singers are asked to bring a musical comedy selection in their own key.

"Don't Bother Me, I Can't Cope" is a dynamic musical mixture of rock, calypso and ballads.
